REDS CLAIM MISSILE TO DOWN ROCKET

MOSCOW (AP) — Effective counter-missiles that can destroy intercontinental rockets are possible, says a Soviet rocket warfare expert.

In the wake of Russia's claim to have developed an intercontinental missile, Maj. Gen. G. I. Pokrovsky wrote Wednesday that two observation points could take fixes on an ultrasonic missile and fire atomic-armed counter-missiles.

Dress Fittings Rushed for Queen Getting Ready for Canada Tour

LONDON (CP) — The Queen today had final fittings of the clothes she will wear in Canada and the United States on the forthcoming royal tour.

A spokesman for dressmaker Norman Hartnell said "three or four" employees went to Buckingham Palace for the last adjustments.

Hardy Amies, another London couturier, said he has designed "some" day and evening clothes for the visit. He wouldn't say anything about their color or line, and so far no fashion writers have pierced the silk curtain.

Today was the Queen's first day in London since she left Aug. 8 for her annual holiday at Balmoral Castle in Scotland. She came primarily to open an international conference of parliamentarians. She will return to Scotland to resume her holiday, coming back to London probably about 10 days before she leaves for Canada Oct. 12.

Blast Rocks Plant

MONACA, Pa. (AP) — An explosion rocked the power plant of the big Kobuta chemical works of Kopper Company near this southwestern Pennsylvania community today.

A company spokesman in charge of the chemical division, which operates Kobuta said: "I have no details but it is very bad."

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

A witness, Norman Epstein, reported:

"The whole place looks as if it had gone into the air. It is the big chemical works and all."

"I am two miles away and the fire is spreading rapidly."

A secretary at the Kobuta plant who spoke hurriedly through a plant telephone, declared:

1,000 Die In Floods In Turkey

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus arranged today to confer here Saturday in an effort to crack the federal-state deadlock over Little Rock school integration.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced at the president's vacation headquarters that word of Faubus' decision to come here Saturday had been received from Representative Brooks Hays (Dem.-Ark.).

Faubus proposed Wednesday that he and Eisenhower "counsel together" and try to resolve the impasse over integration in Little Rock schools.

Eisenhower agreed to a face-to-face meeting and suggested Faubus come here Friday afternoon or Saturday morning.

Earlier, Eisenhower sharply denounced what he termed "radio and television comment" saying Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus had "thrown in the sponge" in the school integration crisis.

The criticism was voiced by James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, who told reporters the president personally had directed him to hit at such reports.

He said he and the president had been "listening to some radio and television comment" on the Faubus proposal that Faubus and Eisenhower meet.

The secretary said he and Eisenhower had heard "White House aides" being quoted on radio and television as saying Faubus was "throwing in the sponge."

Stag Hunt Blessing Gets Goat of 'Noah'

LONDON (Reuters) — The League Against Cruel Sports has asked the Archbishop of Canterbury to find out why an article was published in the Wiveliscombe, Devon church magazine suggesting that the hounds of the Devon and Somerset stag hunt be blessed on church premises before a hunt.

The article was signed "Noah the Recorder."

In its letter, the league states: "The mere idea of anything so foul and cruel as stag hunting receiving the blessing of a Christian clergyman in a Christian place of worship before they begin their fell work of driving a sentient animal to a violent death is thoroughly repugnant to all churchgoers."

The league further declared that the editor of the magazine, Rev. W. B. Norris, vicar of Simonsbath, declined to say who wrote the article.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Hold us this day, O Lord, to a concentration on the art of loving others by remembering to be thoughtful, kind, unselfish and controlled in thought, word and action, making outwardly manifest our loving concern as Christians for all Thy children, our families and friends and fellow workers. ## Island Indian For Senate Post?

NANAIMO — Rev. Peter Kelly, DD, 72, president of the United Church of Canada, is being mentioned in Ottawa as a likely candidate for a senatorial appointment.

According to word from Ottawa, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is known to be considering the appointment of at least one Indian to the Upper House.

"I have heard nothing from Ottawa about such a move," Dr. Kelly said today, "but if I were fortunate enough to be appointed it would be a fitting climax to a long struggle by many people for recognition of Indians."

Born at Skidegate Mission in the Queen Charlotte Islands to Haida Indian parents, he worked as a logger and fisherman, and was married in 1906 at Port Essington, near Prince Rupert.

In 1910 he was admitted to the ministry of the Methodist Church, and in 1916 was ordained in Vancouver after taking theological training at Columbian College, New Westminster.

From 1916 to 1930 he looked after the Indian Mission at Nanaimo, then spent three years at Bella Coola. In 1933 he was named to the mission boat Thomas Crosby, and for the next 16 years travelled 1,200 miles per month in the Queen Charlotte Sound and Prince Rupert areas.

He received his Doctor of Divinity degree in 1947 at Union College, Vancouver, and since 1949 has served churches at Cumberland, Union Bay, Parkville, Errington, and Nanaimo.

It was in 1918 that he was elected chairman of the Allied Indian Tribes of B.C., and four years later was in Ottawa asking for retraction of the proposed compulsory enfranchisement bill.

He has made several other trips to Ottawa in the cause of Indian welfare, and has pressed the case of Indians in Victoria many times.

In 1954 he received the Coronation Medal from W. S. Arnel, commissioner for Indian Affairs.

He and Mrs. Kelly live at 33 Acacia Street here.

Police investigated, and on Wednesday found near the camp the body of a 51-year-old logger they had meant to question, shot to death and with a shotgun beside him. He was not identified pending notification of next of kin, believed in Vancouver.

There were no reports of a disturbance at the camp, but police would not subscribe to a theory that machinery in the diesel plant could have caused the accident.

An inquest for identification purposes was held on Somerville's death Tuesday. It is expected to reconvene Sept. 18 at Alert Bay.

Canadian Forest Products has seven logging camps in the Englewood area of the Island. Vernon Lake, furthest from the coast, is about 45 miles south-east of Alert Bay, and 50 miles west of Campbell River.

Internal revenue contended Continental was in fact a non-resident foreign corporation, whose U.S. dividend collections schedule probably will be made in one to three weeks. A dairy spokesman said today timing will be discussed when the contract is signed. An announcement will be made before the change-over.

Milk prices may go up one or two cents a quart as a result of the $72,900 annual boost to the payroll the settlement provides.

A dairy spokesman said price increases had not been discussed and were merely conjectural, but he added "draw your own conclusions" in view of the wage increases.

"There will be an announcement if and when the time comes," he said.

Last December a dairy spokesman said "it would be a miracle if we can escape a price increase if wages go up."

Leftist Leader, Nasser in Huddle

From UP and CP Dispatches

CAIRO, Egypt — The semi-official Egyptian Middle East News Agency reported that 12 persons were killed in a clash on the Syrian-Lebanese border today.

In a dispatch from Beirut, MENA quoted the Lebanese police command as saying that nine armed Syrian civilians and three Lebanese gendarmes were killed in the clash.

The 45-minute battle stepped up tension again on the border between the two Arab countries.

An interior ministry report said a gendarme patrol encountered the band as it was crossing the border from Syria into Lebanon near Dair As Hayer, a hilly district in northern Lebanon. The band fired on the gendarmes when ordered to halt.

In Cairo, Syria's military leader held urgent talks today with President Nasser and other Egyptian officials and declared that Syria is prepared to meet all "imperialistic conspiracies."

"Every Syrian national is prepared to shed his blood for the sake of preserving his country's independence," Gen. Afif Bizry, leftist commander-in-chief of the Syrian army, said in an interview with the newspaper Al Ahram.

"Syria now is fortified against all imperialistic conspiracies and the people and the army are united in one front."

SURPRISE VISIT
Bizry and Lt.-Col. Abel Hamid Jarrar, Syrian Army intelligence chief, arrived Wednesday on a surprise visit that underlined deepening Arab concern over the Syrian crisis.

Asked to comment on charges that the U.S. government is seeking to overthrow Syria's regime, Bizry said:

"Americans do not only limit their adventures to movies, but they also yield to them in normal life, imagining that a dollar can do anything. They forget that this dollar has no place in a land of honor and dignity."

Informed sources said the talks continued into the early morning.

As they met, acting defence minister Khaled Azem of Syria said in Damascus he does not believe aggression against Syria is imminent. But he added that Syria has taken "all defensive measures to face every possibility."

"His blistering attack on the Eisenhower doctrine is similar to past attempts to frighten the free nations from taking action to reinforce their freedom."

"This language recalls that which was used by the Soviets in regard to the Marshall plan, the 'Truman Doctrine' for aid to Greece and Turkey; the North Atlantic Treaty; the foundation of the German Federal Republic; the Japanese peace treaty; and the South East Asia treaty."

Poland's Gomulka In Surprise Plug For Soviet Union

Know Your Teacher

21-Year-Old Starting Out New Career

A good-looking young man, only three years out of high school, has gone back to the elementary level to spread a little learning to the vacation-fresh minds of Grade Six students.

Bill Harris, 21, of 2876 Austin, is starting his teaching career at Lampson Street School. On the first day of school, "I was very nervous," the new teacher said, "but nothing happened and the kids didn't know it. I hope."

Since then things have settled to normal except for "a little bit of confusion," he reports. Bill Harris had always wanted to be a teacher. His brother Jack also teaches, this year in Burnaby.

BOOKKEEPER ONCE

Bill attended Victoria High School where he played on the soccer team. On graduation in 1954, he completed one year at Victoria College then worked as bookkeeper at Victoria Machinery Depot.

"It was just a job to earn money to go back to college," he said.

Next year he was back at college, this time in the new college of education here.

SEEKS DEGREE

Mr. Harris plans to attend summer school next year and eventually get his BA degree so that he can move up to the high school level. He hopes to specialize in biology and physical education.

In addition to his teaching duties at Lampson Street School, the young teacher also has grade seven classes in physical education, which jibes nicely with his hobbies of basketball and softball.

Lampson's new teacher isn't married—but he's engaged.

Israel Appeals For U.S. Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Israel formally appealed to the United States today "to strengthen all available deterrents against aggression in the Middle East."

The appeal was made to State Secretary Dulles by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, just back from consultations with his government in Jerusalem.

Gomulka and Yugoslav president Tito are considered leaders of the concept of national Communism freed from the control of Moscow.

But, while Tito stood behind him suave and quiet at a factory meeting on the outskirts of this Slovene capital, Gomulka stressed that all "Socialist parties owe a great debt to the Soviet Communist party."

He also said that when Poland was struggling to make a comeback after the Second World War's destruction by "Hitlerite fascism" it was the Soviet Union, along with Czechoslovakia "and other friends" which came to Poland's aid with material help.

Gomulka's speech to about 5,000 workers at the model Litostroj turbine plant here came during a brief tour of the Yugoslav countryside during his present visit to this country.

Asked by a United Press correspondent to comment on the outlook for the Polish-Yugoslav meetings, Tito said: "There is nothing to say at this stage because the talks are only beginning. They will really start when we get to Brioni."

Cuba Demands UN Sanction Against Russ

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Cuban delegate Emilio Nunez-Portuondo expressed hope today that the United Nations will impose sanctions against the Soviet Union if there is continued interference in Hungarian affairs.

The Cuban delegate also told a special session of the 31-country General Assembly that the present Hungarian delegation in the UN does not represent the Hungarian people.

He said his delegation hopes that the regular 1957 assembly meeting here next Tuesday will refuse to accept the credentials of representatives sent here by Premier Janos Kadar's government.

Informed delegates predicted the assembly will adopt a 37-country resolution late Friday endorsing the findings of the UN's five-member committee of inquiry, condemning the Russians once more and naming Prince Wan as a special representative to seek compliance with previous UN resolutions.

Hurricane Speeds Up

MIAMI (UP)—Hurricane Carrie accelerated its speed but lost some of its power early today on a northward course that would miss the U.S. mainland. Latest advisory said the storm was located 940 miles east-northeast of San Juan.

QUEBEC LIBERALS SEEK MARLER FOR TOP POST

MONTREAL (BUP)—A group of Quebec Liberals was reported today to be seeking the nomination of George Marler, former federal transport minister, as national leader of the party.

A caucus, attended by former Commons speaker Rene Beaudoin, was reported to have been held in the Windsor Hotel here Wednesday.

A segment of Quebec Liberals feel that Marler, who speaks fluent French, would stand a better chance of keeping the province a Liberal stronghold than would former external affairs minister Lester B. Pearson, who is being mentioned as Hon. Louis St. Laurent's logical successor.

Sloan Report Concern To B.C. Lumber Chiefs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Top executives of major B.C. forest industry companies say Chief Justice Gordon Sloan may have "gone too far in protecting the smaller operator" in his report on the industry.

The industry leaders, who are giving their views on the report freely as long as their names aren't quoted yet, said they will send detailed briefs to Premier Bennett praising the report but expressing concern and even alarm at some of its recommendations.

At present the smaller logger is entitled to a 30 per cent cut of crown-owned timber in recently-granted forest management licences.

One industry executive said under Chief Justice Sloan's recommendations, a smaller operator could obtain contracts to cut 100 per cent of the crown-held timber.

4 Men, Woman Named Canada's UN Team

OTTAWA (BUP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced Wednesday night that four men and a woman will make up the Canadian delegation to the 12th General Assembly of the United Nations which opens in New York Sept. 17.

The delegation will be headed by Dr. Sidney E. Smith, the new Secretary of State for External Affairs.

Other members of the delegation will be: Wallace Nesbitt, parliamentary assistant to the prime minister; Dr. R. A. MacKay, permanent representative of Canada to the UN; Mrs. Harry S. Quart, and Frank Lennard, MP.

Alternative representatives to the delegation will be: H. O. White, MP; T. Ricard, MP; Escott Reid; W. D. Matthews, assistant undersecretary of state for external affairs; and

Millionaire Takes Own Life, Father Killed Self in 1939

NEW YORK (AP)—Clendenin J. Ryan, 32, a millionaire reformer who stirred many a political tempest in New York City, killed himself at his plush Manhattan home today with a bullet in the brain.

In taking his own life, he followed in the footsteps of his father, Clendenin J. Ryan, Sr., who committed suicide by gas in the same five-storey grey mansion August 21, 1939.

A cousin, Joseph B. Ryan, 44, like the younger Clendenin a grandson of the late financier Thomas Fortune Ryan, killed himself with a leap from a 22nd-floor New York hotel window on September 12, 1950. Joseph Ryan owned the famous ski lodge at Mont Tremblant, Que.

What caused Clendenin Ryan to snuff out his life remained, for the time being at least, a mystery. He left notes to his wife and others, but police did not immediately disclose their contents or shed any light on his motive.

However, in connection with a recent lawsuit filed against Ryan in New Jersey, his lawyer asked that Ryan not be required to appear because of his mental state.

Ryan rose early today and a lawyer Michael Graney had called at the Ryan home to accompany him.

The two conferred briefly. Graney told officers, and Ryan went into a bathroom about 7.30 a.m., asking the lawyer to "excuse me a moment."

Shortly afterwards, Graney heard a noise like a shot but served in various capacities in the La Guardia administration.

when considerable time went by without Ryan's reappearance, he went to investigate.

Ryan lay on the floor, his head pierced by a single shot from a .45 calibre automatic.

WIFE HEARD SHOT

Ryan's wife, Jean, had been in a bedroom and also heard the shot.

A son, Michael, 17, summoned police.

Ryan, who inherited a portion of his grandfather's $141,000,000 estate, and his wife, have four other children, ranging in age from 1½ years to 19 years. Ryan took a keen interest in New York politics, beginning with the race for mayor in 1933.

He served in various capacities in the La Guardia administration.

White Pupils Spit Upon Negro Girl

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Negro student Dorothy Counts, after a week of relative peace, again became the target of spittle and thrown objects from her white schoolmates at Harding High School here.

Dorothy, the only Negro among 1,160 students, said that Wednesday "was the roughest I have had since last Wednesday."

She reported that: Twice while she stood before her book locker, objects struck her in the back. When she passed through the school's crowded corridor, students spat upon her.

Dorothy is one of four Negroes who entered four white schools here last week.

BECAUSE YOU RUB SOAP ON YOUR SKIN

Whatever soap you buy you rub directly on your skin, thousands of times throughout the year. Naturally you want the purest, gentlest, nicest soap you can buy—and we think you will find it in Maple Leaf. It contains a deodorant that keeps you feeling luxuriously clean for hours, it offers the soothing addition of lanolin, and it's available in four lovely colours to match your bathroom... Aqua, Pink, White and Yellow. Honestly... you'll like Maple Leaf. It's the only deodorant beauty Bar in Canada available in four colours!

I LIKE

TO GET OUT OF WASHING DISHES!

If you haven't tried the new Maple Leaf idea of soaking dishes instead of washing them you'll find it an interesting experiment.

Run steaming hot water directly into your dishpan and add one capful of Maple Leaf Liquid Detergent. Then slip the dirty dishes in loosely, so the hot sudsy water can circulate normally around them. Leave them alone for about twenty minutes and you'll find you can simply lift them out and stack them to drain sparkling dry! If this new idea works for you... it may mean that you'll never have to actually wash dishes again!

AS PURE AS SOAP CAN BE

There are several instances where a pure soap is the best washing agent you can use. Any clothing that touches a baby's tender skin, for instance, should be washed in a pure soap; your doctor will assure you of that! Woolens, nylons, fragile lingerie... anything that deserves gentle washing care will be safer in a pure soap like Maple Leaf. And that percentage of people who are allergic to detergents will also find Maple Leaf Pure Soap Flakes useful for general laundry. Because Maple Leaf Soap Flakes are as pure as soap can be—they are used by more Canadian women than any other soap flakes. Look for them at your grocers now!

I LIKE

Honestly... I'm sure it is the best

All wonderful products

One of the reasons people like Maple Leaf products is our direct simplicity! We make one good liquid detergent, one pure soap flake product, and one exceptional beauty bar. Each has a purpose and each is the best modern scientific skill can make it. So you can believe the girl in the Maple Leaf jingle when she sings "I like Maple Leaf!"

Fulton Retains Justice Folio

Dr. Sidney Smith To Be Sworn In To External Affairs Post Friday

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Hon. Davie Fulton will carry on as minister of justice and acting minister of citizenship and immigration throughout the coming session of Parliament, contrary to other reports as announced in The Times Wednesday.

Dr. Sidney E. Smith, president of the University of Toronto will become secretary of state for external affairs in the Diefenbaker cabinet on Friday. The 60-year-old educator who became president of the University of Manitoba in the thirties before moving east, will formally resign from Toronto University Thursday. He will head Canada's delegation at the United Nations General Assembly opening in New York Tuesday. Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told newsmen Thursday prior to the cabinet that there was "absolutely no foundation" to the report that Mr. Fulton might leave the justice portfolio and that Hon. Leon Balcer would be given that post. "Wholly without foundation and you can quote me," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

No More Major Changes in View

The addition of Dr. Smith is the only major cabinet change in the making for the time being, highly placed government sources said Thursday.

Mr. Fulton is busily engaged in preparing the federal position on a series of reports submitted last year including major recommendations for changes in Canadian law and regulations relating to penal reform. This was an important work launched by Hon. Stuart Garson, former minister of justice, who was defeated in the general election last June. A working paper is in preparation for despatch to the provinces and it is hoped to hold a Dominion-Provincial conference with provincial attorneys-general on the subject late this year or early next year. Out of these conferences may come changes in federal and provincial laws. Mr. Fulton is engaged in this work and to shift him to another portfolio at this time would upset the work that has already been done.

U.K. to Buy Vaccine As Polio Rate Climbs

LONDON (Reuters)—British health officials, long opposed to the use of United States-produced Salk vaccine, reversed their ban Wednesday and ordered the anti-polio serum.

The ministry of health has insisted that vaccines manufactured abroad were neither as safe nor as effective as a British vaccine.

PRESSURE BUILDS

But an increase in the number of polio cases in Britain brought pressure to step up home production or buy it elsewhere.

Health Minister Dennis Vosper said at the beginning of the summer the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk would not be imported. But Wednesday the ministry announced health officials "have decided to fill the gap" in supplies with an order of the Salk vaccine.

WHY NOT SOONER?

A spokesman for the British Medical Association said it welcomes the proposal but said it is puzzled why the government did not act sooner.

The government decision to buy Salk vaccine was announced a few hours after it rejected an offer for vaccine from France's Pasteur Institute.

The Salk vaccine will be used to carry out a new immunization program in which expectant mothers and all children under the age of 15 will be offered it before next summer. This excludes 1,500,000 children under 10 who already have been vaccinated.

Polio cases in Britain this year almost doubled the number in 1956. By Aug. 30, there were 3,732 reported compared with 2,077.

Dredge Sinking Brings U.S. Suit For $2.5 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. government, acting within 24 hours of the collision, filed a $2,500,000 damage suit Wednesday for the loss of the army's seagoing dredge Rosell at Coos Bay, Ore.

The dredge was rammed by the Norwegian freighter Thorshall Tuesday at the mouth of the Coos Bay channel. It sank almost immediately with a loss of three crew members and injuries to others.

The government suit filed in Admiralty Court accused the officers of the Norwegian ship of negligence, also named as defendants were Thor Dahl, owner, and the General Steamship Corp. as agents.

The government said the weather was moderate and visibility unlimited at the time of the collision with the dredge inbound and the Thorshall outbound.

It said the Thorshall suddenly changed its course to port, striking the port or left side of the dredge amidships.

Nashville School Violence Calms, Kasper Still Held

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—School officials, hoping for a permanent end to violence after a day of uneasy calm, kept doors open to racially-mixed first grades today. They were backed by police and prospects of a federal injunction.

Mayor Ben West and U.S. district attorney Fred Elledge, Jr. prepared a petition for federal judge William E. Miller seeking an injunction to prevent interference with admitting Negroes to classes here.

It was under an injunction of this type that northern segregationist John Kasper twice was convicted of stirring up racial strife at Clinton, Tenn.

Kasper, also accused of fomenting violence here, was sent Wednesday to the segregated county workhouse after his third arrest.

West said he also will seek to have Kasper's bond revoked in his first contempt conviction in the Clinton case. If this is done, he must serve a year in federal prison.

First grades were integrated here Monday, under orders from Judge Miller, in six schools. A total of 15 Negroes showed up for first-day classes, and racial flareups followed immediately.

Violence came to a climax early the next morning when a dynamite blast ripped open one of the integrated elementary schools. Six men have been picked up for questioning in the school dynamiting. All have denied any part in it.

In the other schools, attendance dropped sharply, running about 40 per cent of normal. Total attendance Wednesday was 1,184 out of an enrolment of 2,912. Negroes were present at all but one school.

TWICE-LOSER LAING STAYS LIBERAL CHIEF

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arthur Laing, last-place candidate in Monday's four-cornered provincial election in suburban Burnaby, said Wednesday he will retain leadership of the B.C. Liberal Party at least until November.

Mr. Laing, who failed to retain his Vancouver Point Grey seat in the provincial general election a year ago, said he has no intention of giving up the leadership before a B.C. Liberal convention is held.

Party officials said this will be in November or December. "I want to meet the people who gave me this job," Mr. Laing told an interviewer.

Oil Conservation Urged by Expert

TORONTO (CP)—An American professor warned Wednesday the world's oil supplies are in danger of drying up.

Professor Rhodes W. Fairbridge, head of the geology department of Columbia University, told the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics that unless a synthetic oil source is discovered within the next 30 or 40 years, natural oil will have to be reserved for essential services.

"The present wholesale burning of oil for heating and fuel will have to stop and be replaced by uranium or other fuel source," he said.

Professor Fairbridge said he had prepared statistics of all the world's sedimentary basins that could possibly contain oil. The outlook showed distinct limitations. It was not being pumped out of a limitless reservoir, he said.

An Inequitable Tax

WITH UNUSUAL CANDOR, the city council has admitted that the new trade licence or old business tax method of raising revenue does not pretend to be equitable.

The city has budgeted for $160,000 more than trade licences provided last year. It seeks to obtain that sum by collecting either the licence or the new tax, whichever is greater, and it offers only the sketchiest of justification for the means by which the business tax is computed.

The new levy, according to city hall statements, is based on an estimated 7 per cent return from a rental value placed on premises. That value is reportedly reached by consideration of existing rentals in the same locality.

This method of reaching a rental assessment—at least as it has been applied for the present year—will raise questions. A cursory survey of the tax assigned to certain firms in the high rental, downtown area, is sufficient to disclose that fact.

Department stores find that in two of three cases the business tax sought from them is more than four times the trade licence they have paid. A third is asked to pay six times the amount of its previous trade licence.

Newspapers, already the victims of a discriminatory provincial machinery tax, face a business tax assessment almost five times that of the trade licence they have paid.

And in each of these cases, the firms concerned are already paying conventional land and improvement taxes to the city.

Provision has been made for a court of revision to consider appeals from business tax assessments. When it sits, some of the inequalities of the new levy will doubtless come to public attention.

Pending evidence presented to such a court, the business tax applied to different commercial institutions seem inequitable to the point of being unrealistic.

Even if this were not the case, if there were no uneven application of the levy, the fact that the city plans to collect either the business tax or the trade licence, whichever is greater, destroys any argument seeking to justify the tax on an equitable basis. The city may do this under terms of the Municipal Act.

There is, of course, some justification for a business tax. The city, with other municipalities, rightly feels that relief must be given to the home-owner whose taxes on land and improvements have been mounting steadily. The council has turned to a revenue source open to it by law. But can it proceed to collect on a basis which no one apparently tries to justify on the grounds of fairness?

There is another point to be noted. If downtown property is to be so heavily burdened, how long will it be before the more astute businessmen decide to abandon this area for suburban sites and thereby start a long-term depreciation of rental values in the city centre? Such outside shopping areas have been developed in other cities where business has suffered adversely from heavy taxation and parking difficulties. Is Victoria inviting the same trend?

The answer to that question may be provided by the people from the whole community who shop, do business or find specialized services in the downtown region. They are the ones who, by paying higher prices and fees, will meet the costs of the new business tax. If they decline to pay, by taking their business elsewhere, then the merchants, business and professional men can reasonably be expected to consider downtown operations too expensive and take practical steps to escape the burdens.

Our Old Customer

FROM ITS EARLIEST DAYS Canada has done a profitable business with the peoples of the British West Indies. There our fishermen in Newfoundland and the Maritimes have sold their fish almost since Cabot's time and there we have bought many products such as sugar, fruit and rum.

Now the British West Indies are about to take the decisive step which we took in 1867. Next year they will become a federal union, a new Commonwealth nation.

In preparation for this status they are considering their future relations with the other Commonwealth nations, including Canada.

Recently some of the West Indies' leading figures discussed these things unofficially with a group of Canadians at Mount Allison University in New Brunswick. Soon there must be, if there have not been already, official discussions of the same subject in Ottawa.

It is to Canada's interest to expand its West Indian market which, though small in relation to our total trade, is extremely valuable to some industries, especially in the Maritimes. But if we are to sell more there we shall have to buy more.

The West Indies, however, are different in vital respects from some of our other markets like Britain, the United States and Japan, highly industrialized nations.

The island economy is primitive and perforce would remain primitive so long as it was politically divided. Now that it is to be unified under a single government it can be greatly improved and enriched, provided it can secure not only markets but outside capital.

It needs capital to develop its own resources, to increase its living standard and hence its ability to buy goods from such countries as Canada.

Already, in a modest way, Canada is helping to develop the economies of Asiatic nations like India, Pakistan and Ceylon under the Colombo Plan. Could we not spare some aid also to the West Indies, our old, reliable customer, either as state grants or private investment, or both?

That would be a sound investment economically, as the West Indian federation is a sound investment politically.

Westbury and Little Rock

ANY CANADIANS INCLINED to pass sweeping judgment on our neighbors over the desegregation question might note the reaction of a Westbury, New York, audience to a phrase in the musical South Pacific.

When the script called for an actress to name Little Rock as her place of origin the show was stopped temporarily by boos from the audience. The patrons chose this means of showing hostility to a community which has resorted to violence in an effort to exclude Negro children from a certain school.

The desegregation question is not, of course, an issue which can be defined in sharp lines, with all the right on one side and all the wrong on the other.

It is heartening, however, to observe that discrimination, as it was understood by the Westbury audience, is judged no more leniently there than in other parts of the world.

Whodunit in Belgrade?

THE LATEST NEWS FROM BELGRADE makes us rather hopeful about Yugoslavia. Marshal Tito is introducing his people to that great virtue or vice of democracy, the detective story.

A Belgrade newspaper is now printing translations of Agatha Christie's works. Mr. Hercule Poirot has slipped through the Iron Curtain. Perhaps even the Marshal himself has met this diabolical little Belgian with the "grey cells."

Another newspaper, to maintain its circulation against Miss Christie's invasion, is translating Mickey Spillane and Peter Cheyney. The Government itself is printing the adventures of Mr. Perry Mason in wholesale batches.

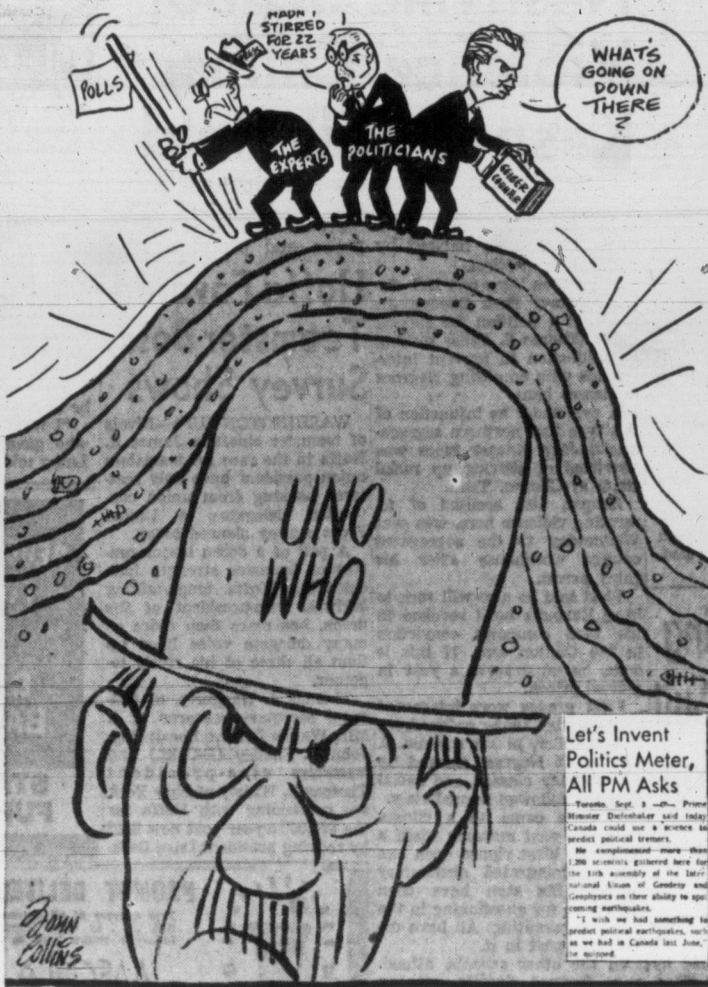

This is strong meat to give the innocent Yugoslavs and a pretty dangerous experiment which Marshal Tito must have undertaken with grave doubts. For how can he expect the faithful Communists of Yugoslavia to keep up with their homework and read Marx when they can read Western murder mysteries?

To be sure, murder of another sort is not altogether unknown in Communist countries, even in Yugoslavia, whose Communism is not exactly simon-pure. But murder of the fictional sort is another matter. It is liable to breed a certain frivolity condemned by all faithful Marxians.

After the first shock of blood and thunder, the Western detective story may make the Yugoslavs suspect that life in the West must be quite orderly and rather safe when we need imaginary crime to amuse us. The Marshal should take care. Once M. Poirot gets his foot in the door he will infallibly find out whodunit.

The Mysterious Depths

REPORT FROM OTTAWA

By VICTOR MACKIE

Jockeying Seats and Votes

THE pressure of numbers and the seating capacity of the House of Commons chamber have thrown the Progressive Conservatives and the Social Credit groups together. However much they might protest that they have nothing in common the Tories and Socreds are going to sit together, side by side on the right hand side of Mr. Speaker. They will face the opposition groups, the Liberals, CCF and Independent members, who will sit to Mr. Speaker's left in the chamber, under the new seating arrangements.

Jockeying

Already there has been some pre-session jockeying by the various parties for office space in the Centre Block on Parliament Hill. There are single and double offices available. The Conservatives, when they were in opposition, grumbled loudly about the allocation of office space to the opposition parties. Now that the PCs are in power the CCF—still in opposition—is doing the grumbling.

The CCF believes that the Conservatives have favored the Social Crediters over the Socialists in handing out office space. One of the problems confronting the Conservatives is the number of Liberal ex-cabinet ministers who want single offices. This, in addition to the number of Conservative members wanting single offices, imposes a demand greater than the supply of single office space can meet.

Bloc

The Social Credit group during the discussions for seating arrangements protested that they did not want to be seated at the far end of the Commons chamber. That group proposed that they be allocated a bloc of seats midway down the chamber on Mr. Speaker's right. This would have split the Conservative group in half. In time it might have resulted in the Socreds losing their identity. The PCs wanted no part of such an arrangement, they want to keep their members together. The Conservatives being the Government the Socreds lost the argument.

Odd

The new Parliament will produce some odd situations. In power is a Government that is prepared to suffer defeat in the Commons as soon as possible in order to go to the country. It is confident that a general election brought on by the defeat in the Commons would return the Conservative administration with a large majority. Recognizing the danger of this the Liberals—the largest opposition group—are determined against bringing down the Government at this time. Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent has declared his party's determination not to obstruct the administration during the coming session.

CCF

Stanley Knowles, CCF whip was in Ottawa recently and declared his party's intention to oppose the Conservative Government on several issues. But whether the CCF would be so ready to oppose if the group might bring about the defeat of the Government and precipitate an early election is doubtful. The CCF want no early election.

Want of Confidence

It is traditional that more than once during a session the opposition introduces want of confidence motions. Following the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne there is usually an amendment and sub-amendment which take the form of non-confidence motions. However with the Liberals not anxious to defeat the administration they may decide to pass up the traditional lack of confidence motion. But if they pass certainly the CCF will be ready to move such a motion and the Liberals may either line up with the Conservatives to defeat it, or conveniently stay out of the House in such numbers, as to ensure its defeat.

Strength

The Conservatives will have 112 members in the 265-member House. Out of that total they must select a speaker of the House, reducing their number to 111. They will probably have on most occasions the support of the 19-member Social Credit group. The two independents also will probably give the Government their support. That adds up to 132 votes the government can pretty well count on during the session.

The Liberals have 105 members in the House. In addition there is one Independent Liberal and one Liberal Labor. Both can be counted on to vote with the Liberal opposition group. The CCF have 23 members. They may often vote with the Liberals. That adds up also to 132 votes on the opposition side.

If the two groups split evenly it will be up to Mr. Speaker to cast the deciding vote. He is expected to be a Conservative M.P. He may be placed squarely on the spot should the CCF manoeuvre the Liberals into a position where they cannot do anything but vote against the administration.

From Our Files

Sept. 12, 1897—Rumors are that the provincial government will call an early legislative session, a month or six weeks earlier than usual, to keep pace as development of the West is being made at a rapid rate.

Sept. 12, 1917—Moscow: Moscow council has issued a proclamation intimating inhabitants of this ancient capital ought to rise in defence of the revolution and prevent the outbreak of civil war.

Sept. 12, 1937—War in the Orient and sudden softening of world lumber markets will be reflected in B.C. this autumn. Timber operations are expected to proceed on a reduced scale.

As Our Readers See It

But Humans Are Human

When in his letter in your issue of Sept. 9 Mr. Jenkins writes — "Present civilization prevents people co-operating," he overlooks the fact that wage workers in their millions are co-operating in the thousands of labor unions. And again—mistakenly he asserts—"If the workers would co-operate they would not be serving the interests of a small and alien class, but would be aiding every one." But present day wage workers are through unions, strikes, united force, and constantly increased pay serving themselves, in all the world.

And be it noted that nation-wide wage-worker co-operation has not obliterated delinquency, as Mr. Jenkins affirms it would.

When Mr. Jenkins states that crime, insanity, misery and profits are brothers, travelling together, he bluntly states the fact that all human problems are basically economic, and all socialism presumes the perfection of all mankind; but it is too evident that humanity being as it is—human—if even that socialism pictured by Mr. Jenkins could in some way be forced upon the world's wage workers, crime, insanity, misery and general delinquency would not disappear.

Already that highly developed machinery of production and distribution is in the hands of all society, with the result that only about 60 per cent of all those eligible to vote on matters pertaining to economics ever take the trouble to express an opinion—if they have one. That co-operation, that socialism, so ardently desired by Mr. Jenkins can only be brought about by a changed mental attitude of humanity, and the regrettable fact is that the present generation is setting the standard of economy that will result in the human product, still more undesirable, of future generations.

Reserve Park Areas

Continuing the comparison of costs for services provided by Victoria and Saanich let's look at the fire departments.

Using round figures, in 1956 Saanich, population 38,000, had 1 fireman for each 1,055 people. The total cost is $156,000 or a per capita cost of about $4.10. I believe the underwriters rate Saanich as having a very good department.

In 1956, Victoria, population 54,000, spent $454,000 on fire protection at a per capita cost of about $8.40.

Thus, under outright amalgamation, Saanich could expect to pay more for fire protection. However, in its report the institute says combining the forces would be very easy and that a much more efficient and effective use of staff and equipment would result. Why this might be so is not discussed, especially as the co-operation of the area fire units is so excellent.

It is interesting to note that the community of Etobicoke, a member of the greater Toronto area, and similar in size to Saanich, is heartily opposed to any metro merger of its fire department.

In expenditures on parks there is a vast difference between what Victoria spends and what Saanich spends. In 1956 on parks and playgrounds Victoria spent in round figures about $322,000 or $6 per capita. Saanich spends roughly about 25 cents per capita. This difference could be explained in part, at least, by the fact that Saanich has available many large natural park areas and open spaces. Many of its citizens live in almost natural parklike surroundings therefore there is no immediate need for large scale developments of same. The main concern, as the institute points out, is that all available park sites in this area should be preserved for the public (developed or not) as such areas can disappear with remarkable speed. The institute recommends a unified parks board because it would be in a stronger position to ask the government for financial aid and also that this area should have outstanding parks to lure the tourists. It points out that a unified approach would, in time, make for a much better park system.

Coupled with an increase in taxes, the Toronto area has been able to expand and improve its major parks which, without metro, probably would not have come about.

Whatever is eventually done all park areas and potential areas should be preserved for the people.

Strike Up the Band

Through the medium of your columns the Victoria Boys' Band wishes to express appreciation for the interest and generosity that has been shown in the recent campaign to raise funds.

Special mention is made of the great interest shown by the management and staff of CKDA, CJVI, CHEK, the Colonist and the Times, for without the valuable publicity given, the campaign could not have met with success.

The total of $1,200 has been raised which will go a long way towards putting the band on its feet again with the purchase of uniforms and instruments.

Dues, a nominal $2 per month for which the boys receive tuition, use of a uniform and the loan of an instrument if required, generally meet current operating expenses but are not sufficient to provide capital for expansion.

With the funds now in hand expansion will be possible and the time is anticipated in the not too distant future when with a membership of between fifty and sixty the band will become a proficient musical organization and valuable asset of Victoria.

FROM WASHINGTON

Will the Lesson Be Ignored?

THE Eisenhower administration in 1957 is behaving oddly like the Truman administration in 1949. In 1949, the first Soviet test of an atomic bomb basically changed the world situation. Instead of sharply revising Secretary of Defence Louis Johnson's program of unilateral disarmament, both Johnson and former President Truman loudly protested that the Soviet bomb really changed nothing. Then in June, 1950, the Soviet aggression in Korea—which the Soviets would never have risked if the American atomic monopoly had not been broken—proved that everything had been changed. And the Johnson disarmament program was belatedly dumped in the waste basket.

Alsop

When the Soviets announced their successful test of the intercontinental ballistic missile, another unilateral disarmament program was going full blast. The Administration knew for certain that the Soviets had in fact tested the weapon. But again, instead of having a hard new look at our defence situation, the first instinctive reaction was to pretend that nothing had really changed.

The parallel between 1957 and 1949 is not, of course, exact. There is one very obvious difference.

When the Soviets tested their first atomic bomb, the United States still had an overwhelming lead in air-atomic power. Now, if the United States has any lead at all—which most authorities doubt—it is a very slim one. And there is no doubt at all that the Soviets have a commanding lead in the race for an operational ballistic missile system.

The reason they have such a lead goes back, in part, to the Johnson period. The Soviets have been hard at work on missile development ever since the war, when they captured the bulk of the German missile experts at Peenemunde. A small missile pilot project was started after the war by Secretary of Defence James Forrestal. But the project was killed by Louis Johnson before the Korean War in the sacred name of economy.

It was not seriously revived until 1953-54, when Trevor Gardner, then assistant secretary of the air force, succeeded in obtaining a high priority for the long range missile.

Thus the Eisenhower administration, to be fair, can take credit for the fact that we have any serious ICBM project at all. But since then the policy has been increasingly one of soothing syrup and economy-before-security.

In 1955, the first solid evidence that the Soviets were making giant strides in missile development became available. When Gardner accordingly demanded a "crash" program to catch up, he was fired for his pains.

Testing Models

Last spring, the American government obtained certain knowledge that the Soviets were testing their first ICBM models. Incredibly, instead of accelerating the ICBM program, it was actually curtailed.

Secretary of Defence Charles Wilson even proposed seriously that all missile spending be arbitrarily held to 10 per cent of the total military budget, which would have slowed the program to a snail's pace.

And the soothing syrup began to be poured out even before the Soviet announcement. For example, when this correspondent reported the first successful ICBM test, the New York Times was fed the official line.

The Soviets, the Times faithfully reported, were at most in a "very early motor-testing stage" with the long range ballistic missile. This was, to put it bluntly, an untruth, and if the dispenser of the official line was qualified to speak it was a conscious untruth.

It is all very well to say, as all the official dispensers of soothing syrup have said, that the manned aircraft of the Strategic Air Command are still capable of knocking out Soviet targets, but that is not the point.

Single Blow

The point is that the first power with an operational ICBM system can knock out the other side's strategic air bases with a single blow. That is why the Soviets, who already have their own strategic air force capable of hitting American targets, have made such an enormous effort to develop the ICBM first. It is the ideal instrument of blackmail.

The dispensers of soothing syrup ought seriously to ask themselves: "Where will we be when the Soviets have the power of destroying our capacity of effective retaliation in a matter of minutes?"

If that time is permitted to come, the Korean War, the price we paid for our first exercise in economy-before-security, will seem a mere nothing.

Britain Aids the Rabbits

LONDON—Down on the farm . . . The rabbits are back. In the fall of 1953 myxomatosis started to run through them and by 1955, thanks to farmers encouraging the disease, England's rabbit population had dropped by 40 million and they were almost completely wiped out. Now, since the spreading of myxomatosis has been made illegal, they are making a comeback.

Unhappy about this are the farmers. On the Duke of Bedford's estate, for instance, his men had to be put to work to kill 33,000 rabbits a year before the plague hit them. In the last year or so not a rabbit had been seen on the 3,000-acre estate.

BUMPER HARVEST

With the almost complete absence of rabbits there were bumper harvests throughout the country, worth an additional $10 million per year to the farmers. Cereal crops flourished. Beef and dairy herds were enlarged because there was more grass for them to eat.

But now with the small percentage of rabbits that survived the myxomatosis onslaught spreading again, the farmers have to go back to the tedious task of trying to keep them in check. And it's a much tougher job now. That old adage that you can't tamper with nature is being proved once more. The new strain is a much more difficult rabbit to kill than the pre-myxomatosis rabbit. It is a healthier, tougher animal, is quicker on its feet and has built up an immunity to the disease.

The farmers are having to resort to the use of cyanide gas to try and deal with these new tough customers. One farmer in Surrey has already gassed three times this year a portion of his farm where rabbits had become thick and the fact that they're still bobbing around there shows that this new strain has the stamina to stand up to even such snick tactics.

DOUBTFUL WEAPON

So quickly are the rabbits spreading again that farmers have got together and had a bill introduced into the House that seeks to repeal the law that bans the deliberate spreading of myxomatosis. But even if the bill goes through and they can use this weapon again, it is doubtful if it will be as effective as before, now that the rabbits have built up an immunity.

Happy about the rabbits' return are the foxes. They were so hard up for food that they were reduced to raiding fishermen's sandlines and making off with the fish.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Dizziness

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Many people ask what it is dizziness and what should they do for it? Usually, I can't guess because they don't tell me how old they are, or many of the other facts I'd need to know. A high percentage of nervous women complain of dizziness or more probably, of a lack of that comfortable sense of good balance that normal people have. The patients have a feeling they might faint or fall down, but they rarely do fall. Many old people complain of spells when they haven't a good sense of balance.

When these come with a certain amount of confusion or some nausea or vomiting, I think the trouble is due to what I call "a little stroke." A tiny artery in the brain has plugged up. Usually the next day the person is pretty well over the spell.

Among the younger people the cause is more likely to be nervousness. Also, there is a type of dizziness, which comes in attacks, in which the room seems to spin around, or the person feels he is spinning around. He is likely then to be nauseated or even to vomit. Usually he has ear noises, and soon he'll notice that one ear has lost some of its power to hear. This is what is called Meniere's disease. It is supposed by some experts to be due to an allergic change or a swelling in the lining of the inner ear. We don't know much about the cause, and hence haven't any very good treatment. Doctors usually take away a person's table salt, and they give drugs like nicotinic acid and histamine which, for a few minutes, cause more blood to go into the arteries of the head. Doctors give some of the antihistamine drugs, and the antinausea drugs. Fortunately, after months or years, the trouble tends to quiet down.

It is said when, every so often a man comes in with perhaps gangrene of his foot, or badly injured eyes, or a dangerous heart attack, or serious injury to his kidneys, which could have been avoided if he had only known some time before that he was a diabetic. It is estimated that in this country there are about a million men and women who don't know that they have diabetes, or that they are headed for it. Many of these persons are going to lose their lives because they do not know of their great danger.

Certainly, all men and women who have a diabetic ancestry ought to be doing several things. Occasionally, they should test their urine for sugar. They should have a measurement made of their blood sugar once or twice a year and they should avoid getting stout. Many a person with a hereditary tendency to diabetes would probably never get the disease if he were to eat sensibly as not to injure the little cells in his pancreas which make the insulin he must have if he is to live. By eating too much, he tends to overwork the cells and to hasten the day when they degenerate.

Now I read that it is planned all over the country to put into railway stations, department stores, bus terminals, restaurants, supermarkets and drug stores, a tiny packet which will contain a test strip of paper which turns blue the minute it is wet with a urine which contains sugar. With these packets available, there will be no excuse for anybody going around with an unrecognized diabetes. Because of our ability now to keep diabetic children alive until they can marry and have children, the number of diabetics and potential diabetics is going to become ever larger and larger. A while ago I had a woman in the office with a remarkably severe type of diabetes. I could guess why it was so severe when I learned that both of her parents and all four of her grandparents had had diabetes.

NOTE TAKING NOT ENOUGH

Full-Grown Plants Show Up Mistakes

When plants have made full growth and are in flower we can best see the mistakes we made at planting time.

Quite often we realize that a plant would show to better advantage in another location, and we make a note to move it at a later date.

We then promptly forget the matter until the plant is again in flower.

In the fall garden we have two most accommodating plants which can be moved while still in flower.

These are the chrysanthemum and the perennial aster or Michaelmas daisy. Not only can we move them to correct a mistake, we may also grow them in the back garden and then move them to display beds in the front at flowering time.

Needless to say, the transplanting of a plant in full flower or in full bud, requires a little more care than is needed for a dormant plant.

It is a good practice to water well a day or two in advance of moving. The planting holes are then dug in the new location and the surplus soil is placed in a pile where the plants are now growing.

Each plant is dug with a large ball of soil to keep root disturbance to a minimum, carefully placed in the new hole, and given a good soaking before the root ball is covered.

A light spray over the foliage several times a day will keep the plant in condition. The moved surplus soil goes into the holes which are left where the plants were dug.

Queen's Speech Praised by PM

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth, whose style of speaking was attacked last month by Lord Altrincham, was warmly praised by Prime Minister Macmillan for a speech she made today in opening an international conference.

It was her first public speech since Altrincham criticized her style of speaking as "a pain in the neck" and said that "the personality conveyed by the utterances which are put into her mouth is that of a priggish schoolgirl."

After she had opened the Inter-parliamentary Union conference, Macmillan said: "I hope I may be allowed, without breach of propriety, or impertinence, to congratulate Your Majesty on the manner in which you have performed this ceremony."

"A gathering of parliamentarians is probably the most critical audience in the world . . ."

Bishopric for Indian Still Far Away

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—The possibility is remote that any Canadian Indian in the near future will become a bishop of the Anglican Church of Canada, an Anglican church leader says.

The Most Rev. W. H. Barfoot, archbishop of Rupert's Land and primate of all Canada, said in an interview Wednesday that "it is remote because there is not at present a diocese with sufficient Indian population to elect a bishop."

"Most of our Indians are scattered across the country and are found in a great number of dioceses," he said. "More likely would be the appointment of an Indian as an archdeacon to work with federal government officials at Ottawa and with the various dioceses."

Many Foreign Visitors To Buildings

The visitors' book at the Legislative Buildings almost resembles the register at the United Nations Assembly this week.

Countries represented among the signatures inscribed in the book are India, Pakistan, Turkey, Norway, England, Scotland, France, Belgium, the United States, Latin America and Canada.

A party of three visitors from India, headed by Uttamlal A. Gandhi, from Nansari, was taken on a tour of the buildings by one of the Corps of Commissioners on duty.

"These gentlemen were particularly interested in our legislative chamber," Commissioner Mort Dundas said. "They were also attracted to the portraits of lieutenant-governors and premiers hung in the rotunda."

Many visitors from the United States ask to see the Crown Jewels (not knowing these are kept in the Tower of London) and a few want to know where the Queen stays when she comes here to "open parliament."

"This misunderstanding arises from the fact that the Queen is going to Ottawa next month to open Canada's federal Parliament," Mr. Dundas said.

Victoria Names Scurrah, Dowell On Amalgamation
Mayor Percy Scurrah and Ald. Arthur Dowell will represent Victoria on a committee suggested by Saanich council to find ways and means of conducting a study on Saanich-Victoria unification.

The mayor announced his appointments Wednesday. Reeve Arthur Ash and Coun. George Chatterton will represent Saanich. It is planned to study amalgamation, formation of a metropolitan area and polling of essential services.

FOREST FIRE CONTROLLED
HARRISON LAKE—Fire fighters Wednesday brought an 80-acre forest fire under control at Silver River, 20 miles north of here on Harrison Lake. Seventy men had fought the blaze since it broke out Tuesday afternoon about seven miles inland from the lake shore at the Henry A. Larson Logging Company camp.

Quarter of Newcomers Here Over Age of 60

Twenty-five per cent of the people who settle in the Greater Victoria area every year are of retiring age—60 years and over, according to a report released by the Capital Region Planning Board.

The report indicates that Victoria's population growth and economy is to a large extent dependent on people who come here to retire.

Prepared by Brahm Wiesman, planning engineer, and his assistant J. M. Wright, the statistics of Victoria's population growth will be incorporated in a report of a "master plan" for the Greater Victoria area. It will be ready in December. The present population report shows that there are over 25,000 people over the age of 60 living in the Greater Victoria area. The number equals the combined population of Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

Since 1951 a total of 3,000 persons of retiring age have come to Victoria—about 600 a year.

The total number of people of all ages, including immigrants, who have come to the city since 1951 number about 12,000.

The report shows that if industrial and commercial expansion decreases, Victoria will depend mainly on people of retiring age for its increased population.

Flower Show Opens Friday

The fall flower show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will be officially opened at 3 p.m. Friday by Frank Dwyer, one of the outstanding horticulturists of Canada and the United Kingdom.

He was recently appointed judge for Canada and the United States by the National Chrysanthemum Society of England.

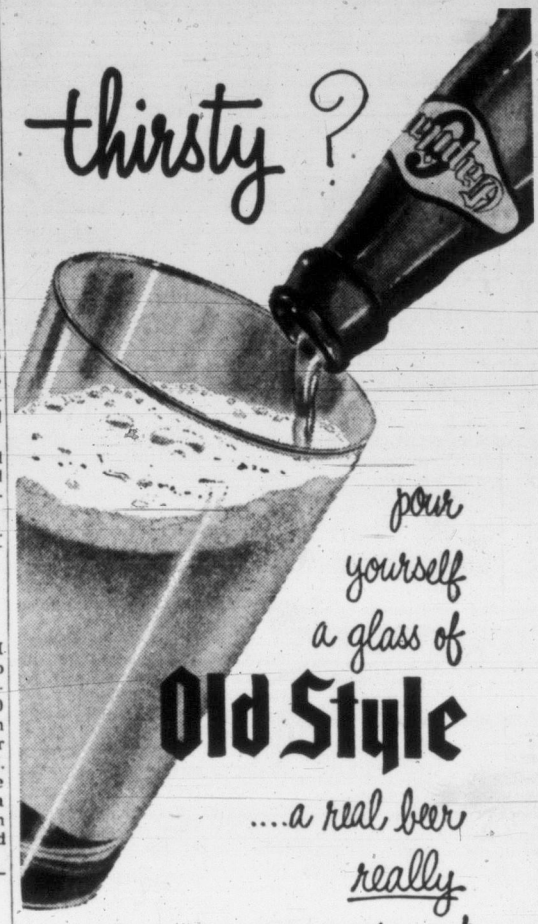

The fall show lasts two days.

2 Held By FBI In Cloth Theft

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—FBI agents Wednesday arrested two men they described as key figures in the theft of $2,800,000 worth of uniform cloth from the Philadelphia quartermaster depot. They are Francis J. Kesting, 42, a foreman at the depot, and Harry Deering, 61, a retired employee. The stolen goods were sold in the U.S. and Canada.

CPR to Buy 117 Diesel Units

MONTREAL (CP)—The CPR has placed orders for 117 diesel locomotive units at a cost of $24,000,000. It was announced Wednesday. The order was split between Montreal Locomotive Works and General Motors. It will bring to 944 the number of diesel locomotive units on CPR lines.

Navy Lab Scientists At Toronto Meeting

By MONTE ROBERTS

Dr. W. L. Ford, superintendent of the Defence Research Board's Pacific Naval Laboratory at HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt, is in Toronto attending a 14-day conference of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics.

With him is Sir Charles Wright, former scientific adviser to the British Admiralty, who is currently engaged on PNL research into low frequency electromagnetic backgrounds.

Also attending the conference from B.C. is Dr. Robert Stewart of Vancouver, on loan from the Defence Research Board to the Institute of Oceanography at UBC.

One of the subjects under discussion at the conference is the generation of sea waves by the wind, which is one of the fundamental research projects at the PNL.

A proud, one-time ruler of the trans-Pacific passenger trade is up for sale — with only ship-breakers interested.

She is the former Empress of Japan, whose regular visits to port of Victoria brought a big time shipping atmosphere here. Re-named Empress of Scotland during the period when "Japan" was a dirty word in these parts, the beautiful old ship has been employed in the Atlantic trade since the end of the war.

She has just about reached the normal life expectancy of a ship, which is regarded by most owners as 30 years. The Empress was built in 1930 for the CPR and proudly wore the Pacific blue ribbon for many years.

Britannia is about to have a jolly good try at ruling the waves in the Pacific.

Two giant luxury liners are now in the works, both aimed for the England-Australia-Hawaii-B.C. passenger trade. One, the Oriana, will be built for the Orient line by Vickers-Armstrong; the other, now known only as hull No. 1621, is being built by Harland and Wolff Ltd. for Peninsula and Oriental Steam Navigation Co. The Oriana liner, at 40,000 tons, will be nearly twice the size of the ships currently on the run (Orsona, Orion, Oronsay). Each of the new ships will cost as much to build as the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth combined.

THEY'LL BE SPEEDY
The new ships will be fast — a service speed of better than 27 knots is planned — and each will be able to carry at least 2,000 passengers in luxury accommodation.

Both Orient and P & O liners are unusual in design, distinctively streamlined and, to the old-time ship enthusiast, just a little vulgar and ostentatious. But they will provide what the shipping expert believe the travelling public wants.

Both will be seen passing down Juan de Fuca Strait in a little under three years. Like the present Orient liners, their only Canadian port of call will be Vancouver.

SLUM CLEARANCE
LUTON, England (CP) — Demolition of 700 houses in 10 years is the aim of a slum clearance project in this Bedfordshire town.

British Comets To Hop Atlantic September 24

LONDON (AP) — Two of Britain's Comet jet aircraft will make their first east-west Atlantic crossing Sept. 24, the air ministry announced today.

A spokesman said two RAF versions of the pioneer civil airliner will carry ground crews and equipment to Pinecastle, Fla. for next month's bombing competition by the United States Strategic Air Command.

"We expect that contamination of aviation jet fuel at the refueling base at Gander, Newfoundland, will by then have been rectified," the spokesman said.

A Comet had been scheduled to fly the Atlantic Tuesday en route to the bombing competition, but the flight was cancelled because of refueling difficulties. The air ministry sent a piston-engine Hastings aircraft in stead.

The Comets will take no part in the Pinecastle bombing, for which the British entries are six jet Vulcan and Valiant bombers. The Comets fly only in a transport support role.

'CLOAK, AUGUR' HABIT ANNOYED FRIEND WIFE

CHICAGO (UP) — Richard Higgins, 31, believes a man's home — however well ventilated — is his castle.

His estranged wife, Virginia, 26, felt differently. At least she didn't think much of his practice of boring holes in the walls of their home to spy on her.

Higgins' attorney denied none of the charges. In fact, he upheld them on the ground that a man's home is his castle.

The hearing ended with Higgins agreeing to plug up the holes and to give up his "cloak and augur" activities. He will also have to pay his wife $36 weekly support until her suit for divorce charging cruelty is decided.

Davy Jones Leaves Huge Footprints?

DUBLIN (Reuters) — A scientist who lowered a camera nearly three miles down to the bed of the Atlantic ocean says he has photographed footprints of some kind of "abominable seamen" who live there.

Dr. A. S. Laughton, of the National Institute of Oceanography, showed color slides of the prints to fellow scientists at the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science here.

"We are working on a new camera that will enable us to of these underwater footprints." take color shots in 3 d," he said. "This perhaps will help us to get new facts about the cause

Saanich Saves on Sewers

A saving of $28,570 in sewer installation costs for Saanich municipality is shown in a report released by Reeve Arthur Ash one month after resumption of the program.

The 13½ per cent saving under estimated costs was due to less rock excavation than anticipated by a preliminary survey but Reeve Ash said today that a reverse trend in the future could cancel the saving.

The report, sent to council, shows $173,825 was actually spent, instead of the $202,394 estimate, during the period covering June, 1956, to the end of last July.

In a letter attached to the report, Reeve Ash warned against optimism until the project is further advanced because "some districts could very easily result in more rock discovered than estimated and this could change the present favorable financial position."

He added that $241,000 realized from the sale of debentures "should carry us over into next year when I hope the bond market will be considerably improved."

Workmen laying the sewers are averaging 2,500 feet each week but the pace probably will slow down when winter arrives.

Cheers and Jeers Greet Battle Of Kim Novak for Pay Increase

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kim Novak is getting cheers and jeers in Hollywood. It happened two years ago when she came to the point in the life of Marilyn Monroe. She was lives of almost all top stars tied to a firm contract with 20th Century-Fox, but she declined to pence. Having been nurtured work until she was assured she to stardom by a studio, they could approve or reject scripts and do films for her own company. She won. FEUD SMOOTHED Kim Novak now has made the same move. She informed Columbia she wouldn't report for an Alfred Hitchcock loanout until she got a salary adjustment. Her current wage: $1,250 a week.

The feud has now been patched up in part, but her relationship with the studio will never be the same.

Local viewpoints of her action are generally at two extremes: 1. That she is a brave girl who seeks what she rightly deserves. 2. That she is biting the hand that made her a star. The No. 1 view was expressed to me by another young actress of first magnitude. She said: "I take my hat off to Kim. What is she making—$1,250 a week? Why it's ridiculous—even Debra Paget makes more than that! Kim is the hottest female star today. She deserves much, much more than she's getting."

"After she pays her agents, taxes and so forth, she probably keeps $400. She's got to live on that. She can't save any money that way."

MOVE OVER MARILYN — The most highly-talked-about newcomer to Hollywood is Mary Hasford who was just a housewife just a year ago when she was signed to star in C. V. Whitney's film, "The Missouri Traveler." Mary, a mother of four, is about to become an authoress and also will announce her marriage to Whitney. She is expected to be as highly publicized as Marilyn Monroe. (NEA).

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Actress Francesca de Scaffa, long-sought defendant in the California Confidential magazine trial who disappeared in Mexico, is ill in a private hospital here, the ministry of interior said Wednesday. The ministry said she will leave Mexico soon. Miss de Scaffa had been sought since she did not answer a Mexican deportation order last month.

'TAMMY' BIG SURPRISE

Debbie Joins Hubbie As Hit Parade Star

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The No. 1 record today is Tammy by Debbie Reynolds. No one is more surprised than Debbie Reynolds.

"I'm not only surprised it's a hit," she said. "I'm surprised it's a record!"

I would hazard that Debbie's achievement creates the first husband-and-wife golden record team. Tammy should have passed the million-mark by now. Miss Reynolds' spouse, fellow named Eddie Fisher, has a whole closet full of the golden discs, symbol of the record industry's best sellers.

Debbie said she recorded her hit for a scene in the picture, Tammy and the Bachelor.

TRIFLE EMBARRASSED
"But I never thought it would be put out as a record," she remarked. "I didn't even do it with an orchestra. I just sang with a piano, and the background was put in later."

She said she was in England when she first heard about the record. Coral had put it out, and an executive called her that the disc had sold 200,000 copies.

"I thought there was a mistake in the cable and he meant 2,000 or 20,000," she said. "I couldn't imagine the record selling that many."

Huckleberry Finn Given the Berries

NEW YORK (AP) — Mark Twain's The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn no longer is on the approved textbook list for New York city's elementary and junior high schools.

Miss Ethel Huggard, associate school superintendent in charge of curriculum development, confirmed Wednesday that three textbook contracts for the book have not been renewed in the last two years.

"Huckleberry Finn" has been criticized by some Negroes as radically offensive. A spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said he is unaware of any organized protest against the book was dropped because it contained passages derogatory to Negroes. It was felt the story was really not a textbook, she said, adding that those pupils wanting to read it may obtain copies in the school libraries.

Marriages End In Bankruptcy

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Actress Joanne Dru, former wife of crooner Dick Haymes and actor John Ireland, has declared herself bankrupt after her marriages ended with only "thousands of dollars in unpaid bills."

She appeared before federal bankruptcy referee Benno M. Brink Wednesday after "trying to avoid taking this step."

The actress filed the petition last month and listed debts of $274,133 as compared with assets of only $21,690.

"Huckleberry Finn," first published in 1885, tells the story of boyhood in the Mississippi Valley in the 1840s.

Bird Watching Increases With Suburban Life

By TONY DICKASON

Suburban living has added tremendously to the numbers of bird watchers in this area, and hours of interest and amusement can be found in this way.

Those who watch birds believe they are nature's most eloquent expression of beauty, joy and freedom, and they take a leaf from the Audubon Magazine which states "a bird in the bush is worth two in the hand."

The time has passed when collecting birds is of any value as North American birds are nearly all well-known, so what is left?—observing their behavior in the natural habitat.

Conservation of birds needs no justification: they are essential in nature's long chain of eaters, and thus do their part in keeping the delicate balance of life.

Birds are not overly clever, though most are beautiful. Their mental processes are closer akin to those of insects than of mammals, as there is little folding "gray matter" such as humans, or even dogs, possess.

Thus, intrinsically, they are comparatively easy to understand.

Trees Not Necessary

The home owner whose property has trees has the best break when it comes to bird watching. But even without trees, it takes little time to attract the feathered ones if food is provided.

A bird bath in the garden pays off also. It can be of concrete, or even the overturned lid of an old garbage pail, mounted on a pole. The birds will come.

But don't rush to the window when birds arrive. They frighten easily. Birds will walk right up to you if you stay still; it's the movement that scares them.

Feeding stations are easy to make, a box without top or bottom nailed to a window ledge brings visitors quickly. Seagulls and cardinals become so bold they'll tap on the window if the food supply is low.

To attract hummingbirds, plant petunias, delphiniums or any other type of bell-like flower. If you have the patience of Job, stick a colored piece of paper or glass tube in your mouth, and wet with a sweet, scarlet-breasted hummingbird will hover over your face and take the nourishment.

A row of sunflowers brings birds quickly, as do honeysuckle bushes, hawthorne or thornapple.

Many stores now sell wild bird seed in package form. It generally includes a lot of sunflower seed, enjoyed by the blue jay, evening grosbeak, cardinal, goldfinch, purple finch, chickadee and others.

Suet Attractive

Put out plenty of suet. This attracts the chickadee, woodpeckers and juncos. Juncos, sparrows and goldfinches like millet and rape seed. Raisins and grapes are enjoyed by thrashers, bluebirds, hermit thrushes, catbirds and robins.

If one lives by the waterfront, ducks can be delightful. Fed well they become sort of family members, and will even nest at the end of the garden. They provide laughs by loads, as Disney well-realized in his Donald Duck creation. Sole duck drawback is that they get up early, and seemingly go to bed late, quacking in strong tones during waking hours.

Easily Made

A suet log is easily made. Simply take a piece of log, drill one-inch hole at intervals and plug them with suet. Then hang it up on a tree branch.

Most seeds should be well strewn to ease feeding.

To help in bird identification a good book is essential. They are to be found in any of the larger department stores.

Prime mover in this area for bird watching is the Victoria Natural History Society, though there are hundreds of other non-members who fill in delightful afternoons just watching on their own.

Witch Hunt Charged By Magazine Counsel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state of California is trying to put Confidential out of business in a "witch hunt," the defence has contended at the magazine's criminal libel trial.

"The indictments were returned not to punish someone but to put a magazine out of business," lawyer Arthur J. Crowley said Wednesday in his final argument to the jury. "Confidential has the biggest

Appeals to UN

TIRE MAKES COOK BOIL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a little more than Thomas R. McQuade could take when he had the second flat of the 'day' on his new station wagon.

So he kept going, police reported, at speeds in excess of 55 miles an hour.

The first result of his rash decision, officers said, was that the tire shredded and fell off the wheel. But McQuade would not stop, even after the wheel itself fell apart.

Officers said McQuade, a cook, had succeeded in flattening the hub on the end of the axle by the time they pulled him over. He was booked on suspicion of drunk driving.

Cadet Corps Chief Takes Last Salute

With first 1957-58 training parade of Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) Army Cadet Corps, commanding officer Capt. G. Dudley Stephens took his final salute before retirement last week.

Capt. Stephens, for nine years associated with the corps, inspected a cadet parade at Bay Street Armoury Friday night, then was presented with an inscribed silver tray and illuminated scroll by former cadet, Sgt. Ian Sutherland.

For the past seven years Capt. Stephens was the corps chief instructor. He was honored at the Scottish sergeants' mess by a gathering of ex-cadets and former instructors.

ELVIS' RING NO SEAL

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — That 18-carat sapphire ring pretty Anita Wood is wearing, a gift from Elvis Presley, is not an engagement ring, she says.

It was rumored around Memphis, where the 19-year-old blonde met Presley less than a year ago, that matrimony was pending. But Miss Wood said Wednesday it just isn't so. "Just a gift," Miss Wood said when called in Hollywood to check out the rumor.

PUBLIC WARNED

Asiatic 'Flu Reportable

Residents are required to report each case of Asiatic flu to district health authorities if the disease takes hold here, Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy said Tuesday.

The Victoria-Esquamalt medical health officer said flu has always been a reportable disease but seldom is recognized as such by the general public.

If doctors are called in on the case, a report is automatic. However, it is expected many persons will take to their beds without calling a doctor if the flu becomes widespread.

At last report there are 25,000 cases in the United States, though only a few in Canada.

First suspected cases here will be subjected to blood tests which will be evaluated at Ottawa. Once the disease is confirmed and a diagnosis made certain, the tests on subsequent cases will no longer be required.

The doctor said she is advised sufficient flu vaccine will arrive here in October to inoculate persons in vital jobs—health workers, waterworks employees, police and firemen, etc.

She thought there would be no need to order schools closed even if attendance is seriously reduced because such action wouldn't likely reduce the spread of the disease.

THEY ADD UP

NEW YORK (NEA) — Both the Yankees and Braves can trace their leads, as the final part of the season starts, to a habit of winning better than three out of every five one-run games they played.

A devoted mother's love is just the beginning

NOW IN NEW LOW-PRICED JARS!

Of course, all the love and attention you shower on your children is of the utmost importance. But there is one further step to take if you want to give your youngsters the extra energy they need. This simple step is seeing to it that your child gets the benefits of added nutritional values... so vital for the development of growing young minds and bodies. One of these success foods is Ovaltine, which contains many of the more important vitamins and minerals. Taken in one of the simplest forms of all—mixed with milk—Ovaltine can make a great difference to your children during their "growing-up" years. Start giving them the benefits of Ovaltine's added nutritional values today.

It Takes Two to Tango! Cards May Find a Partner

By The Associated Press
Is that a miracle or a mirage taking shape in the National League pennant race?

A miracle finish, such as New York Giants staged in 1951, is like a fango. It takes two. Even a spirited sprint down the stretch, such as Giants' 37-7 drive six years ago, won't bring a payoff unless the leader collapses, as did Brooklyn Dodgers when they lost 23 of their last 48 and then blew it all to Giants in the three-game pennant playoff.

That's the situation in the National League now. The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have won seven of their last eight while Milwaukee's first-place Braves, perhaps building pressure by insisting there isn't any, have lost five of their last eight.

Cards stayed with it Wednesday night, battering Philadelphia 14-6 and climbing within 4½ games of Braves, who were dropped 2-1 by Pittsburgh Pirates. Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's ace, was sidetracked in his bid to become the major's first 20-game winner of the year after winning nine straight.

Third-place Brooklyn, seven games behind Milwaukee, defeated Chicago Cubs 9-1 in the only other game scheduled. Cardinals, hitting their one-game scoring high of the season, rapped 15 hits off ex-mate Harvey Haddix and five relievers while collecting a pair of six-run innings. Del Dennis drove in three runs with his 22nd and 23rd home runs.

FOILES FOILES SPAIN
Spahn, who had been Milwaukee's stopper, had the goods on Pirates' except for Hank Foiles. Foiles had a perfect day with three of the Buc's eight hits, swatting a home run that tied it 1-1 in the third and driving home the clincher with a two-out single in the ninth. Spahn, now 19-9, had been 4-0 vs the Pirates.

Dodgers smacked 15 hits, 14 of them singles, and nailed it with six runs in the fourth that handed Bob Rush a 15th defeat. Johnny Podres hit his major league high with a 12th victory, allowing six hits and losing his bid for a seventh shutout on Ernie Banks' 37th home run—11th against the Brooks—in the second.

Meanwhile, in the American League, after two years of waiting, of Sal Maglie finally had his chance to prove himself to Cleveland Indians. It was in 1955 that New York Giants put Maglie on the market and Indians grabbed him, not to bolster their pitching staff but to keep New York Yankees from getting him.

To the Tribe, the menacing Barber was "just another guy." When he was peddled to Brooklyn in May, 1956, Maglie had an 0-2 record.

Sal made it 1-2 as a Yankee Wednesday, spinning a sweet three-hit shutout that shut out Cleveland 5-0.

Yanks lost the second half of the day-night doubleheader as Ray Narleski set them down on four hits for a 4-1 victory.

It left New York with a 5½ game lead over second-place Chicago White Sox who scored three in the 11th to beat Boston

Main Event Followed Slow Waltz

CHICAGO (AP)—The best fight at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night could have been between a trainer and a referee.

As it was, Larry Baker, eighth-ranked welterweight from New York, wound up restraining his handler, Jack Friday, from going after referee Bernard Weissman.

This all happened after Baker lost to Vince Fartinez, No. 4 contender from Paterson, N.J., on a technical knockout in the ninth round.

After seven dull rounds, the national TV audience who stayed with it and the 1,108 ring-siders who managed to last through it, got a treat.

Martinez caught Baker with a terrific left to the face in the eighth. Baker staggered into a corner under a fusillade of rights and lefts with a vicious cut near his right eye pouring blood.

Weissman stepped between them. Martinez apparently thought the fight had been stopped. But Weissman quickly looked at Baker's eye and moved away.

Baker, no longer reeling, tore after Martinez. In the centre of the ring he caught him with a looping right. Martinez's legs buckled and he was forced groggily into a corner.

Baker smashed him at will, but the bell sounded before Martinez could be chopped down.

Between rounds, Dr. Irving Stott inspected Baker's eye. He told the referee to stop the fight.

Friday, a bulbous man, angrily rushed towards Weissman. Baker stood in front of him, holding him back until he cooled off.

Martinez, a 12-5 favorite, outweighed Baker 145½ pounds to 148, and was ahead on points throughout the eight rounds.

White, counting three times while the Shamrocks were a man short, and veteran Don Ashbee each collected five goals to lead the Nanaimo team.

On defense, the Timbermen standouts were Arnie Dugan, who picked up four assists and bustling Lisle Scott who also had a four-point night with a goal and three assists.

Landess paced the Shamrock snipers with his three tallies while Peeewe Bradshaw and Bert Bertola each pumped two shots into the Nanaimo net.

Bertola and Harold Fox tangled in a slugfest match in the third period. Fox received major penalties and Fox served an extra two minutes for the wrap-around offence that started the ruckus.

Winner of Friday night's deciding game will host Peterborough in the opening game of the best-of-seven Canadian final on the home floor of the Western champions Monday night.

Zone Won't Be Included In Irish Strategy Friday

Timbermen Thump Rocks To Even Western Final

Timbermen 19, Shamrocks 9
By DOUG PEDEN

NANAIMO—At least two things will be certain when Victoria Shamrocks and Nanaimo Timbermen lock horns to decide the Western Canada lacrosse championship at Memorial Arena Friday night—the Rocks won't be starting off with a zone defence, and they won't have to play at Nanaimo again this season.

Chances of the Irish dethroning the defending Mann Cup champions should be improved on both counts.

Making their third Nanaimo appearance of the best-of-seven series Wednesday night, the Rocks again failed to find a way of stopping the Timbermen on the small Civic Arena floor, absorbing a 19-9 trouncing as the T-Men evened the playoff at three games each.

And the Victoria club which has won three straight at home, made the Nanaimo task easier by electing to start with a zone defence. The husky T-Men took only 20 seconds to find a soft spot in the Shamrock armor and only two minutes to decide the outcome.

With the uncertain Irish crowding back on goalie Gordie Johnston and seldom in position to join in the chase for loose balls, the Timbermen were able to pick their spots for their first five shots. All of them hit the back of the net, the last four in a space of 57 seconds, and at 2:04, Nanaimo was out in front, 5-0.

T-Men Gave Fred a Rough Reception
Shamrocks dropped the zone line. Fred Fulla replaced Alf Shuker in the Nanaimo goal and Morelli's third goal and a pair by shifty Gogie Stewart made it 10-4 at six minutes.

Johnston, who had battled the effects of flu in the previous two games and had climbed out of bed for the sixth tussle, yielded the goalkeeping chores to Fred Wooster and the T-Men almost repeated their opening surge as they rapped in four goals on as many shots, ending all doubt as the score climbed to 14-5.

White, Ashbee Lead Nanaimo Snipers
Wooster had better protection and more success in the third period, stopping five shots and blanking the T-Men while the Rocks were slipping two goals past Fulla. But in the final session, Timbermen, cheered by a capacity crowd of howling fans, were in command again, outscoring the Rocks, 5-2.

White, counting three times while the Shamrocks were a man short, and veteran Don Ashbee each collected five goals to lead the Nanaimo team.

GET-RICH-QUICK PLAN FOR SOCCER FOLLOWERS

LONDON (AP)—Bettors on British soccer matches were offered a new type of wager Wednesday where the odds are 21,000,000 to 1. If the bettor can correctly pick eight matches from among the games played in the English Soccer League each Saturday he will be paid $420,000 for each 2-cent bet.

The bookmaking firm, whose business is legal in England, suggested to its patrons that a knowledge of the sport was not necessary.

JUNIOR ROCKS READY Everything Free Until Game Time

BRAMPTON, Ont.—Victoria Shamrocks, fresh from Tuesday night's easy 15-9 victory over Brampton Excelsiors, confidently predict they will keep the Minto Cup, emblematic of Canadian junior lacrosse supremacy, in Western Canada.

Enjoying free movies and free dinners in the host town Wednesday, the Rocks showed little worry about the remaining games of the best-of-seven final.

"If we play as we did Tuesday, the series will only go four games," said team captain Ed Longpre, who netted three goals in the first-game victory.

At the same time he offered a gentlemanly compliment to his opponents: "A few of their players are great team men and very good players."

Manager, Archie Brown, himself a former forward with the Brampton team (1948-49), said the Excelsiors "seemed to be afraid to bring the ball up" in Tuesday night's game which was climaxed by Victoria with seven goals in the last period.

SMOOTHER TEAM
"Our boys appear to be slightly smaller," said the coach, "but last night's game proved that we are superior in style, condition and team play."

"I have all the confidence in my boys. We will come out on top."

Brampton's coach George Thompson wasn't giving away the series.

He said: "The B.C. boys are fast but Tuesday was an off night for Brampton. We will do better in all further games."

Next game is tonight at nearby Dixie Arena.

The Shamrocks are used to winning playoff series in the minimum number of games. They took the British Columbia championship in two straight over Vancouver Mount Pleasant—defending Canadian titlists—and the Western Canada laurels with a two-game sweep over Manitoba All-Stars.

Are There Any Cougars on Hand?
BOSTON (AP)—Sweden's Sven (Tumba) Johansson will be among 55 players who will report to the opening of Boston Bruins' National Hockey League training camp here next Sunday.

The largest squad in 20 years will report to general manager Lynn Patrick, coach Milt Schmidt and a staff including managers and coaches of the Springfield and Victoria farm clubs. Manager-coach Colin Kilburn will represent Victoria Cougar interests.

Johansson was a star forward on the Swedish national team which won the world's amateur championships in Moscow last winter.

Ed's Change Paying Off
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee Braves has doffed his slugging role of previous years to become a team player.

"I averaged around 40 homers a year since the Braves came to Milwaukee," Eddie said, "and we never once got the pennant."

"So this spring, I set three goals for myself which I'm sure would help the club. I wanted, first of all, to hit around 30 home runs. Secondly, I set my sights at driving in 100 runs, and thirdly, I aimed at hitting 300."

Besides hitting his 31st homer Tuesday night, Mathews raised his batting average to .302 and his RBI total to 88.

ON OTHER SIDE OF fence now, Doug Brown will line up with Oak Bay when defending champions meet Navy in Intermediate Football League fixture at Roppy Athletic Park Friday night.

With Navy last year, Brown's kicking services were sorely missed by Sailors in their opener although they won 12-0 decision over Mayo Vampires.

Swim Workouts Start Saturday
First official swim club workout at the YMCA will be held Saturday.

Midges club (under 13 years of age) will commence practice sharp at 6 p.m., followed by the junior club at 7.

All former club members are asked to be present, while any swimmer wishing to become a member of the Flying Y squads is invited to attend.

Eaton's Club Wins 'C' Softball Title
Eaton's Diamond E's won the Utility Softball title Wednesday with a 7-6 win over the B.C. Electric.

On Tuesday the E's had tripped the Electrics, 11-9, after stopping McEwen's in the semifinals.

LOOK WHAT HAPPENS
Eddie, who no longer fans on high pitches, is on base 45 per cent of the time, which is more than any other Milwaukee player, including Henry Aaron, the major league homer and RBI leader and Red Schoendienst, the club's leadoff batter.

"I figured if I got on base more, I'd also score a lot more with Aaron hitting behind me. That would give the team more runs—and in many cases prove the difference between winning and losing."

Braves manager Fred Haney says of Mathews: "He's our team man—our most underrated player. He does everything for us—he has power, he can run. He's the best third baseman in the game."

Stall Space at Premium As Opener Draws Near

NEW NAME, SAME VOICE

Recently honored by Squamish Indian band, Jack Short acquired new title of "Chief Flying Voice." However, Short, known to most as "The Voice of the Races," will be using language familiar to B.C.'s horse racing fans for many years when 14-day meeting opens at Sandown Park at 1.45 Saturday afternoon. One of country's most noted turf announcers, Short will again be calling races. Eight races are carded Saturdays, seven on weekdays.

Activity at Sandown Park is at a beehive-pace as officials prepare for the opening of racing Saturday. The 14-day meet is expected to be the best ever on Vancouver Island.

While improvements to the grandstand and the extension of mutual facilities have been almost completed, workmen are ready to set up extra stall space.

Almost 200 horses have been moved to the Sidney track already. More are expected today. The Sandown stables can accommodate 250.

BARALOV, TOO!

Racing enthusiasts received good news Wednesday when it was learned that Vic Rees will probably ship over Baralov, a top handicap horse, for the meet. Baralov captured the Ascot Derby at Vancouver this season, nipping Donn Baykey, regarded as the top stakes horse in the province.

Saturday's eight-race card which starts at 1.45 p.m. will be featured by the Inaugural Handicap for three-year-olds and up. There will be at least five other major handicap races during the meet, including the Times Handicap on Sept. 21.

Horses listed below are all scheduled for appearance, and most of them are already stabled at Sandown.

Law's Long Arm Drops Saxton

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—For trooper then countered with his mer welterweight champion own right and sent Saxton to Johnny Saxton was knocked the asphalt.

down by the long arm of the law on the New Jersey turnpike Wednesday night.

Saxton, who tips the scales at 142, was floored by state trooper Anthony R. Shupin, a stocky 175-pounder who connected with a straight right to the jaw.

After the brawl, the two retreated to a neutral corner—the Newark police station—where Saxton was charged with driving without a licence, stopping illegally on a ramp and assault and battery on an officer.

Shupin said he saw Saxton's car parked on the ramp and pulled up to see what the matter was.

The former champ came out swinging. He threw a short right and right and Shupin ducked. The was for pay.

Esks' Pair In Front

REGINA (CP) — Johnny Bright and Normie Kwong, power-running fullbacks for Edmonton Eskimos, are showing the way in the ground-gaining department of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Statistics released Wednesday by Bill Hawrylak of Regina, league statistician, reported Bright is out in front with a net gain of 529 yards in 89 carries. Kwong, who set a league record of 1,440 net yards last year, is second with 427 yards in 80 carries. Fullback By Bailey of British Columbia Lions is third with 370 yards.

Edmonton's Don Getty has the best pass completion average. Getty has completed 23 of 38 aeriels for a completion average of 60.5 per cent. Winnipeg's Ken Ploen has completed 57.1 per cent of 35 passes. Calgary's Jim Finks has completed 55.7 per cent of 79 aeriels, and B.C.'s Toppy Vann completed 54.5 per cent of 33.

Saskatchewan's Frank Trippucka, who set a league record completion average of 61.48 in 1955, has completed 50.4 per cent of 125 passes. Parker has completed 49.1 per cent of 61, and B.C.'s Maury Duncan has completed 48.3 per cent of 60. Calgary's Ted Duncan is the top punter with an average of 44.6 yards on 43 kicks.

BLIND DERBY HONORS WON BY MRS. JOHNSON

Mrs. Alice Johnson won first prize in the fifth annual Canadian Institute for the Blind salmon derby Wednesday when she landed an 8½-pound fish.

Thirty anglers competed in the affair, fishing from 15 boats loaned by the Capital City Yacht Club. Mrs. Johnson won a cash award and also the CNIB trophy as the best of the blind fishermen. Douglas Stuart won second prize, while third prize was captured by Ivan White. Consolation winners were Lynn Otley and Clayton Hamilton.

TWO-DAY COMPETITION

Boat Top Prize For Coho Derby

Milwaukee Plainly A Confident Club

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Braves are having world series tickets printed but fans have been warned against trying to buy them now.

The club said Tuesday it had received authorization from baseball commissioner Ford Frick to start printing tickets.

William Eberly, Braves' ticket-director, requested fans not to send orders for tickets until the club announces a starting deadline for ticket orders.

BATHGATE BACK

NEW YORK (UP) — Andy Bathgate, New York Rangers' leading scorer last season, has signed 1957-58 National Hockey League contract.

Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, assisted by the Greater Victoria Lions Club, will stage its annual coho salmon derby Oct. 5 and 6 at Saanich Inlet.

In benefit of the Cerebral Palsy Association, the derby will be under the direction of chairman Sparky Romano and publicity director John Priestley.

Objective of the fish-fest has been set at $3,000, the amount considered necessary to keep the palsy association's "bunny buses" in operation. Buses, driven by off-duty firemen, are used to transport handicapped children. They were originally purchased by the Lions Club through the sale of Easter seals.

Tickets, priced at $1, are available at the Hudson's Bay Co. Wilson & Lenfesty and this weekend at the Burnside Safeway store. Tickets may also be purchased from any VSIAA or Lions Club member.

EQUIPPED WITH MOTOR

Heading an attractive prize list, area boat and outboard motor combination, with the winner to be drawn from all ticket purchasers.

Top fishing prize will be a movie camera and projector, while the second-biggest silver will be worth a complete camping outfit and third prize is a clock radio. Many hidden weight prizes will swell the prize list.

Tickets, each good for weighing in only one fish, may be used on either fishing day. Derby runs from dawn of Oct. 5 to 3 p.m. Sunday, with the usual VSIAA rules applying.

Ticket gives its holder special VSIAA membership for the two-day period.

Weigh-in stations will be Hall's Boathouse at Goldstream and the Anchorage at Brentwood.

Mr. and Mrs. McShain saw Ballymoss take the lead a quarter of a mile from the finish and stay ahead for a length victory over England's Court Harwell.

Another English horse, Brichie, the 6-to-1 favorite, was three-quarters of a length behind Court Harwell.

Tempest, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham, of the Maine Chance Farm, Kentucky, and New York, was fourth in the field of 16 starters.

HEAVY RAIN FALLS

Heavy rain fell just before the start of the race over the one mile, six furlongs and 132 yards turf course. But Ballymoss finished in fine weather and under brilliant sunshine.

Ballymoss was timed in three minutes 15.35 seconds, compared with the course record of 3:01.35 set in 1934 by Windsor Lad. He earned $40,810 for McShain.

Noise, Mr. Capozzi, Coming From Boo-Birds

VANCOUVER (CP) — Do tell us, Mr. Capozzi, what's wrong with our B.C. Lions.

The Western Interprovincial Football Union club has lost five and won one game in the present season.

The Vancouver Sun passed on the questions of some disappointed fans to general manager Herb Capozzi and published the questions and his answers Wednesday. The exchange in part:

Q—Does the club have trouble obtaining high-calibre imports and if so why?

A—Yes, every club has trouble getting top college players. It used to be possible to find players in the National Football League who were fully aware of the conditions there and were willing to leave. But now we can't raid, players are harder to get.

Q—Is it true that coach Clem Crowe lacks the necessary contacts to get top college players?

A—As far as I know he has the contacts. I know he seems to have the respect of all the U.S. coaches. But what we have not done but are now going to do is to bring in more U.S. coaches to our training camps to help us and to acquaint them with our game. We have had Ab Wimberley of Louisiana State for the past two years. We intend to bring in more and more good coaches like him.

Q—What is the matter with the club on the field as in the case of losing games in the second half?

SERIOUS LOSS

A—Saskatchewan lost six top players last year. Gordon Sturtridge, Mario Demarco, Mel Beckett and Ray Syrnysk were lost in the plane crash. John Wozniak retired and Harry Lampman went to Hamilton.

O.C. CRICKET

LONDON (Reuters) — Close of play score in yesterday's cricket match: Surrey 369 for 7, vs. Rest of England.

That has been enough to knock a second-place club down to last place.

We have only Paul Cameron, By Bailey, Primo Villanueva, Dan Edwards and Bob Hantla back from last year's club.

... In that comparison with Saskatchewan, I think lies the answer to the question.

Q—Are we doing enough to build and encourage Canadian talent?

A—We may have neglected doing what we should. It's easy to say that in my position now. It might not have been so easy when the club began. But, right now, we are carrying 10 extra Canadian boys on salary although we can't dress them for a game.

Expert to Give Cruising Course

By DON INGHAM

A course designed especially for boat owners and potential pleasure boaters is being repeated this year at Victoria College after a successful introduction last year.

Titled "Cruising With Safety," it will be given by Richard V. James as one of the general courses given in the college evening division.

Topics to be discussed will include boat handling in general, mooring, docking and anchoring; government regulations and rules of the road; tides and tide tables, charts and coastwise navigation, wind and weather; the compass, its use and correction; Canadian and American buoyage systems; safety equipment; winterizing of vessels; care and maintenance of hull, engine, and sails; individual needs of boat owners; bends and splices; where to go, and how to get there.

It is a real course for a cruising family, and out of last year's enrollment of 72 exactly half were women, and one-quarter of the "students" were in families.

"It is as practical a course as it is possible to make it," Mr. James said. "When we talk about anchors, we'll have samples of all types on hand. When the lecture is on compasses there will be at least a dozen models and sizes in the classroom. When the subject is ropes and splices, the students will do the splicing. You can't learn that from a book."

Mr. James came across plenty of evidence that his class of last year found the course worth while.

MONEY SAVED

"One man figured I saved him $1,000 with a tip on engine care alone," he said. "Certainly he wouldn't have had an engine this spring if he hadn't done the proper thing with it during the winter."

While cruising this summer on his own craft, the 35-foot sloop Lalanga II, he came across several of his students and noted they were making good use of what they had learned.

Proof of its popularity was the devotion last year of four people from Duncan who braved the highway during the worst of the winter weather to attend classes. This year there will be 12 people from Duncan on the course.

Mr. James, a school teacher by profession, is a member of Royal Victoria Yacht Club and has been sailing waters between Olympia, Wash., and Alaska for 30 years. He is also a naval architect, and has about 14 ship designs to his credit.

The class will meet at the college each Wednesday for 12 weeks, starting Sept. 25, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Early registration is necessary to get on the course.

MUM IS WORD FOR SOPRANO LOIS MARSHALL

LONDON (CP) —For the next six days, soprano Lois Marshall isn't allowed to talk, let alone sing.

The Toronto artist picked up a touch of laryngitis at an open air concert in North Carolina last month before coming to the Edinburgh Festival.

Weldon Kilburn, Miss Marshall's accompanist and one-time teacher, said today that the ailment got steadily worse as she made her three Edinburgh appearances, followed by a concert at London's Royal Albert Hall Tuesday night.

Miss Marshall has cancelled an appearance in Holland as soloist in Verdi's Requiem in a performance commemorating the battle of Arnhem.

For the next ten days "she won't even be allowed to say hello," Kilburn said.

JUDGE FINDS CHAIRS SEAT OF TROUBLE

WINSTON-SALEM, S.C. (AP) — A jury which Wednesday convicted a man of drunken driving returned a second verdict: the jurors' chairs are too hard.

"It's torture, just plain torture," said jury foreman Henry E. Ivester. "They get you across your back and just about cut you in two."

Judge L. Richardson Preyer examined the chairs himself and took judicial notice that "they do feel quite uncomfortable across the back."

The judge promised to pass along the complaint to county authorities.

Vessel From Israel Passed By Egyptians

PORT SAID, Egypt (Reuters) — The 2,716-ton Norwegian freighter Mars, carrying a cargo of cement and potash from Haifa, Israel, to Rangoon, Burma, was allowed to pass through the Suez Canal Wednesday after being held up here by Egyptian authorities.

STRIKE WON'T AFFECT LONG DISTANCE CALLS

VANCOUVER (CP) — The strike of 54,000 Communication Workers of America scheduled for Monday is not expected to affect long-distance telephone calls between B.C. and the United States.

"At no time in the past has an American strike ever bothered us," a B.C. Telephone spokesman said.

Donations Clear City Symphony

Victoria Symphony Orchestra starts this season financially ahead for the first time in its 16 year history, thanks to individual donations, society president Jack Barraclough said today.

The season begins with a working capital of about $9,500. Mr. Barraclough said the symphony society hopes to have $10,000 extra revenue each year from individual donors until the total reaches $50,000. This would eliminate the tenuous year-by-year operation of the orchestra and provide a backlog in case of a depression.

Conductor Hans Gruber termed the present working capital "a very encouraging sign."

Oak Bay municipality has sent $250 to the society, first ever received from a municipal government outside the city.

Esquimalt and Saanich have declined to contribute, while the city has indicated it may repeat last year's $2,500 grant.

In the first three days this season, about 1,140 tickets were sold. Total for last season was 1,400 tickets.

MAKING IT BIG

MILWAUKEE (NEA) — The Braves drew 8,009,952 fans in their first four years in Milwaukee—almost double that of the next highest National League club for that period, the Dodgers.

Legion Plans $30,000 Home

WINNER of the lumber carrier "rodeo" at Chemainus for the third straight year, was Ray Millard, who will compete in Vancouver this weekend for B.C. title. Only recently he was elected to his sixth consecutive term as chief of Chemainus Volunteer Fire Department. (Poskitt photo).

DUNCAN—Tenders are being called by Cowichan Branch No. 53, Canadian Legion, for construction of a $30,000 concrete block building on Legion property at Trunk Road and Bunkers Street.

The building, to measure 40 by 100 feet, will include a secretary's office, rooms for the ladies' auxiliary to the legion, and recreation and refreshment rooms.

An adjoining auditorium to accommodate 400 people will be built later.

The new building will replace present quarters on Government Street.

$5,455 Loss For Hospital In 7 Months

DUNCAN—King's Daughters' Hospital this week reported an operating deficit of $5,455 for the first seven months of this year.

Patient days for the period totalled 22,223 compared with the 20,550 total for the same period in 1956.

The hospital board learned that BCHIS has granted the hospital permission to increase its 1957 budget by $10,260 to cover salary increases which had not been anticipated when the current budget was submitted.

225 Blue Grouse Shot In Chemainus District

CHEMAINUS—Statistics compiled by the access committee of Chemainus Rod and Gun Club show that 225 blue grouse were shot in the Copper Canyon area on the past two weekends.

A total of 134 hunters entered the area during the same period for an average bag of 1.6 birds per hunter. Best shooting was on opening day, when 34 hunters bagged 95 birds.

RCAF MARRIAGES PESKY

Recruiter for WD Nabbed Own Fiance

Gold medal for recruiting should go to F/L Jo Foote, the comely head of women's recruiting at RCAF headquarters, Ottawa.

The former Vancouver legal secretary recruited her fiance into the service, shortly after she became engaged.

"At least I guess you could say I recruited him," she said. "He saw what the service was like and decided to join."

F/L Foote is touring eight Western recruiting units and was accompanied to Victoria today by Vancouver recruiting officer F/L Thelma Kennedy. She will review career counselling here with F/O Barbara Peterson, 271 Cadillac, leaving Sunday for Edmonton.

When she marries her fiance—she wouldn't mention his name—F/L Foote won't have to relinquish the position that came after six years in the service.

"Not until I decide to raise a family," she said, "then I'll retire."

She says marriage is "our biggest headache" in the ranks. "At least 75 per cent of our recruits get married after a few years," she said. "The majority marry service personnel and they make very good service wives."

One in every five girls who wants to make the RCAF her career meets all the requirements, she said. "We get most of our recruits from the Maritime provinces where there are very few jobs open for women."

The RCAF is looking for "girls who like the idea of travelling," and are 18, have grade nine education, are single Canadian citizens, and can pass medical and classification tests, F/L Foote said.

"We're selective because we have to maintain RCAF standards."

Canada now has about 2,900 women recruits, with an additional 350 serving overseas.

... got her man.

A year ago, the life of this fine lobster was repressed. Then small, he was thrown back into the sea—allowed to grow into a bigger, more profitable catch. By throwing back shorts, lobster fishermen are actively cooperating with the Department of Fisheries to conserve their own great industry.

The one that got away!

MANY LOBSTERS CAUGHT in the Atlantic fishing grounds go back into the sea. Some are small and are repressed to grow in size and quality. Some are berried—egg-carrying lobsters—willingly surrendered to go back and multiply. During close seasons, no traps are laid. This keeps their numbers at a safe level to ensure good catches in future years.

By following these vital conservation methods, the lobster fishing community wholeheartedly cooperates with the Department of Fisheries and safeguards the prosperity of its industry and livelihood.

The annual market value of Canadian lobsters has been estimated at 15 million dollars. The Department of Fisheries and the lobster fishing industry are jointly concerned to preserve this important national asset.

SLASH FIRES CAUSING LOVELY CITY SUNSETS

Smoke coloring Victoria sunsets comes from slash fires set by logging companies to get rid of debris on their logging operations, according to the B.C. Forest Service.

Fires are burning on Canadian Puget Sound Lumber and Timber Co. Ltd. property west of Jordan River, and at Lens, Bear, and Harris Creek camps of B.C. Forest Products.

Fires are burning well and are in no danger of spreading unless winds come up, according to D. B. Taylor, district forester.

Parking By-Laws Passed by Duncan

DUNCAN—In an effort to cope with increasing commercial traffic along Trunk Road, city council this week passed by-laws governing parking in the area.

Parallel parking only is allowed on both sides of Trunk Road from the Trans-Canada Highway to Duncan Street, but on St. Julian and Festubert Streets, between Coronation Avenue and Trunk Road, angle parking will be allowed.

Council members expressed concern with old tarvia side-walks on McKinstry and Marchmont Roads, built in the depression years and now pocked with holes as deep as eight inches.

Council has announced, however, that the city cannot lay concrete sidewalks unless petitioned by the ratepayers living on the streets.

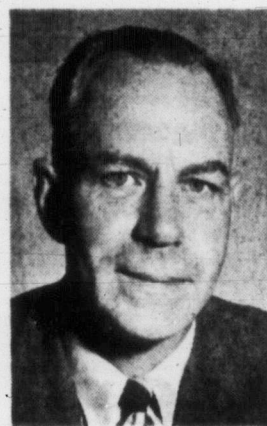

Starting Saturday, parking meter fines will be payable at the City Hall instead of being collected by RCMP. Council rejected a move to reduce the fine for over-parking from $2 to $1.

Shooting of Child Ruled as Accidental

COURTENAY (CP)—A shotgun blast that killed a nine-year-old Union Bay girl Tuesday was accidental and no blame is attached to anyone, coroner Thomas Menzies concluded after a special inquiry Wednesday.

Maureen Bohn died instantly when the gun was fired accidentally by her 15-year-old brother as he tried to work the repeater mechanism of the weapon.

Apparently the breech of the gun was defective and a shell jammed, the coroner said. The boy did not realize the gun could fire without pulling the trigger and was hammering the mechanism when the mishap occurred.

Sidney Seeking Funds for Hall

SIDNEY—A community-wide mail and personal canvass will be launched Saturday by Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association to raise funds for furnishing of the community hall.

Walls were erected and sheathed, and the roof finished in a concentrated drive at the end of last month.

Needed are provisions for indoor sports, showers, a recreation room, and kitchen facilities.

An "open house" will be held at the hall Saturday in conjunction with the starting of the fund drive.

When completed, the hall will become the property of North Saanich War Memorial Park board, which will also administer the hall.

The community hall association is responsible only for the construction of the hall on behalf of the parks board.

Secretary of the fund raising is Miss J. H. Anderson, Ardmore, who said donations to the fund already have started.

B.C. Grants $10,000 for Nanaimo Fair

A grant of $10,000 to the Vancouver Island Exhibition Association for improvements to the fair grounds and the erection of new buildings was authorized by the B.C. cabinet today.

The cabinet order releasing these funds from consolidated revenue was signed three times by Premier Bennett as minister of agriculture, minister of finance and president of the council.

A further grant of $5,000 from consolidated revenue was made to the Cowichan Exhibition Association for improvement of fair grounds and erection of buildings.

The Vancouver Island Exhibition Association is more commonly known as the Nanaimo Fair Board and the extra funds are wanted for extension of the Nanaimo fair to be held in centennial year.

This year's Nanaimo fair is being held on the Beban Estate today, Friday and Saturday. It will be officially opened by Recreation Minister Earle Westwood tonight at 7.

ON VIEW TODAY is the latest name in the automotive world, the Edsel, of which the above is a rear view.

NEW CAR ON DISPLAY

Ford's Edsel Shown; Gets Good Reception

By DON INGHAM

The new Edsel, Ford Motor Company's answer to the Buick Oldsmobile, De Soto, and Chrysler, packed the National Motors showroom today.

One of a handful of brand new names to come forward in the post-war years, it is a sleek-looking automobile that appears to justify the 10 years and $250,000,000 spent in its development.

Five models were on display Tuesday night at an informal preview for National Motors employees and their friends, and the "ooh's" and "ah's" that greeted them on their arrival seemed genuine.

DIFFERENT GRILL

It is a big, roomy, powerful car with its most distinctive feature—an oval-shaped vertical grille—already well-known to everyone.

That it is a good car—well-engineered and built—is understood. All Detroit models of today are expected to be good in that department, but Edsel is distinctive in other ways.

Here are a few of them:

No fins. Front and rear are flat and clean, and give the car a neat, smooth silhouette.

The biggest engines in mass-production. The two engines develop 303 and 345 horsepower, and have displacements of 361 and 410 cubic inches.

Four headlights. On high beam all four operate, and on low beam only two.

Wraparound parking and turning lights at the front to give a signal both forward and to each side.

Bumpers and front grille that are integral parts of the frame. Excellent head and leg room in both the front and back seats.

Well designed seats that fit the human body.

The Edsel line includes the Ranger, with a rock-bottom price of $3,463, through the Pacer and Corsair to the Citation, for which a buyer can pay more than $6,000 if he stacks on all the available optional equipment.

If these prices seem high, a little memory and arithmetic will show that they are not, and that complaints about high car prices generally haven't too much foundation.

I know of a car that sold in 1946 for $2,894 with exactly the equipment available on the Edsel Ranger at $3,463.

If the two could have been put on a showroom floor together in 1946 there is no doubt that despite the price difference of $569 the Edsel would have been a better buy.

It is a bigger car, heavier, more powerful, with far better lighting and vision, better brakes, better performance, more room and cheaper operation. In addition, the tax on the 1957 car is much bigger than that of 1946.

The main reason prices are higher today is because of the long list of optional equipment available now that was not to be had in 1946. If the buyer wants to do without that equipment he can buy a car reasonably. A comparative car in the late 1930s cost 85 cents per pound, and the Edsel costs about 65 cents. There should be no complaints about price.

U.S. Shuns Red Newsmen Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today turned down a Red Chinese proposal for a deal to exchange reporters between the two countries.

But it assured Red China it will consider applications for individual reporters from that country to come here. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson at Geneva, Switzerland, told Chinese Ambassador Wang Pingnan that under U.S. immigration law he is not able to consider entering into an exchange agreement which Wang proposed.

The two men met today in the latest of a series of sessions which have been going on at Geneva for more than two years. Wang put forth the proposal for an equal and reciprocal exchange of reporters. His action followed a state department announcement of Aug. 22 that 24—the number was later raised to 26—American reporters could go to Red China. The first Peiping reaction was that whatever was done would have to be on a basis of reciprocity.

Today's move was the first direct diplomatic contact between Washington and Peiping on this issue.

TROUBLE AHEAD

LAWRENCE, Kan. (NEA) — Kansas, the only college football team to meet three major bowl clubs last year, will go the same again this season, with 57 bowl teams Texas Christian (Cotton), Oregon State (Rose) and Colorado (Orange) on the schedule.

PRAM LOTS LOTS OF TROUBLE

Baby Carriage Parking Problem Fathers Raging Debate in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — A debate on baby carriage parking lots is raging in the letters column of The Times.

The subject was brought up two days ago by Dina Dobson of Bristol, who wrote that prams—for perambulators, as they are called in Britain—often are too big to be taken into smaller stores and it is unsafe to leave a scrambling baby outside unattended.

The problem is magnified in Britain, where supermarkets are rare, because mothers have to visit several stores each day. It is further magnified because the British way of keeping up with the Joneses often means having not a bigger car, but a bigger and frillier pram. If one of these is left on a narrow town or village sidewalk, passing prams must be wheeled into the street.

A good and cheap solution, Mrs. Dobson said, is to appropriate part of an auto parking lot for prams, with an attendant to mind the babies.

But today her solution was challenged by C. M. Barlow, of Hassocks, who wanted to know what an untrained attendant would do "(a) with a baby in distress; (b) in heavy rain; (c) if pram and occupant are still parked at closing time?"

A pram park would be an excellent spot for abandoning unwanted babies, Barlow added. Mrs. Dobson also noted that when a false fire alarm cleared a Bristol department store, 17 occupied baby carriages were found unattended.

Racial Strife in U.S. Wins Point for Kadar

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — Premier Janos Kadar attacked the United States Wednesday and declared: "Those who tolerate that a people should be persecuted because of the color of their skin have no right to preach human liberty and human rights."

Kadar, addressing a Communist party meeting, was evidently referring to recent disturbances in the U.S. over Negro children going to school with whites.

Buick Adds Prestige Car To 1958 Line

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A new prestige model, to be known as the Limited, will be added to the Buick line of cars for 1958, Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager, said Wednesday.

The 1958 line will go on sale Oct. 25, with styling and engineering details to be announced a few days earlier.

The Limited series will be eight inches longer than any other car in the Buick line.

Ragsdale said the 1958 model will feature completely new styling, including a new grille. He said a new triple turbine dynaflo transmission and a new air ride (air suspension) will be available on all models.

ANCIENT STYLE

All-Day Parkers Move to Rockland Ave.

City council decision to halt preventing home-owners from all-day parking in a 57-block parking in front of his own downtown fringe area hasn't house, and making driving in had its desired result—Victorians just won't take to off-street parking.

Council received a petition from 27 Rockland Avenue residents Wednesday protesting that all-day parkers have now moved out into that area.

They want the two-hour parking limit extended to Rockland between Cook and Vancouver.

Cars left by day workers in the downtown area are blocking deliveries, clogging the street, this year.

Coffee Price Cut in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Coffee drinking became less expensive as major U.S. roasters and some supermarket chains Wednesday slashed prices from two to six cents a pound. It was the third round of price cuts deliveries, clogging the street, this year.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 12, 1957

WHAT! NO BONES:

Visitor Fashions Fashions for Dogs

By TONY DICKASON

It is easy and precise to say that the firm of Mrs. Doris Sachs, now visiting Victoria, has gone to the dogs.

The London, England, business of L. Sachs and Company has been manufacturing dog accoutrements 72 years, and deals with a fussy West End trade as dog clothiers.

Mrs. Sachs is here to see if a branch could be opened to cater to Victoria and Vancouver dogs in duds.

A stunning little ensemble was held up for inspection. "This is a cocktail coat," said Mrs. Sachs. "It can be used when the mistress is visiting dress shows, at teas, or other afternoon gatherings."

Black, with red trim and nicely sequined, it would sell to the retailer here for around $3.

There are trousers for dogs, but no skirts. There are tanned "zipper coats" for warmth; there are raincoats; there are shoes for Phideaux with canvas tops and leather soles, used in slushy weather.

Price to the retailer for the essential of good dog dress would range around $10, she explained, plus import charges. This would include the wardrobe, and brush and comb.

L. Sachs and Co. are on Regent Street, and cater to such large stores as Selfridges, and also do business with firms in Toronto.

"Dogs love their clothes," says Mrs. Sachs.

"Do mine?"

"Oh no, I haven't any dogs. Just cats..."

FOOD CAN BE FUN, SHE SAYS

'Slim Jim' Kerr Discovers Dieting Breeds Fanatics

(This is the first report of reporter Dinah Kerr's nine-day Josephine Lowman eating experiment.)

By DINAH KERR

There's something about a diet that brings out a dangerous fanaticism in people.

My mother, for instance, completely lost her head when she learned I was going on Josephine Lowman's nine-day gaining diet starting today.

Right after dinner — a heavy dinner, mind you, and I wasn't even on the diet yet — she was consulting cook books and muttering over pots of brown rice and custard.

Timing bells were clanging like someone had broken the bank at Monte Carlo. And in the midst of the clamor, I lay propped in bed, stolidly munching on two cookies that my native bearer, Andrew, 14, had trotted in. Eight hours later, relaxed but still skeletal, I rolled out of bed, mixed up a mess of mush, poached egg on toast and coffee and downed the works, dear Josephine.

I will not try to describe my feelings as I contemplated that egg. It is enough to say that I came close to striking my mother when she rounded the corner into the kitchen and carolled, "My, I guess you're looking forward to that milkshake this afternoon, eh?"

Speaking of fanaticism, my boss takes the cake (heavily frosted). When I announced this morning that I wouldn't give up smoking after all—Josephine had mentioned nothing about cigarettes—he flushed with anger and called me "weak" and "a moral coward."

He was quite right, of course. But he was wrong when he called me "No Guts" Kerr—because my stomach is rounding out nicely. And it will be a real thrill when some of that food, lying in a leaden heap at the bottom of my food factory, is distributed to the outlying areas of skinniness.

Food can be fun, after all, skinnies! So let's take a look at Friday's menu:

Breakfast — Orange juice, whole wheat cereal, four slices of bacon, one slice of buttered toast and coffee with cream and sugar.

Lunch — Tomato stuffed with cottage cheese, mayonnaise, celery on the side, milk, rolls and one piece of layer cake.

Mid-afternoon — Milk shake or glass of milk with cream.

Dinner — Grilled liver with onions, creamed carrots, bran rolls, stuffed potato, green asparagus, bread pudding and milk before retiring.

See you 'round!

MONTE ROBERTS

I see where our Miss Kerr is going on a diet, and the objective of this diet is to gain weight.

Which brings to mind a time when I went on a diet and thus gained weight.

This happened 'way back in the distant past, when I was about Miss Kerr's age, so possibly she could benefit by my experience.

There were four of us and two canoes on a holiday camping trip. With sleeping bags and a sketchy assortment of camp gear, we set out from Horseshoe Bay (the one-on the mainland, not the Strait swim take-off point) to paddle up coast.

Our general idea was to paddle up for about half a week, then paddle home during the rest of the week.

Which was a dandy idea. But the weather was beautifully calm, and we decided to add a few miles of open water to our paddling stretch, and cut out across the gulf to Texada Island.

By this time, we were down to the bare necessities in the way of provisions, and we figured to restock on grub at a friend's camp on the west side of the island.

We were about a mile off the south-east tip of the island when the weather (as it does so often in the gulf) changed its mind. The wind she blew, the waves they grew, and we had to work rather hard to make it to shore.

In fact, we didn't bother to pick out the best spot to land—we just landed, and watched the sea kick itself into a furor.

And then, of course, came the rain. And more wind, and more waves.

We were marooned. For three days, the wind blew and the rain rained, and we were stuck on shore.

Which is where the diet comes in. For those three days, we lived on—I am not kidding—rock cod and stewed aalal berries.

And on the last day of the three, there was no salt for the rock cod and no sugar for the aalal berries.

So what happened? So when the wind dropped and we were able to paddle across the gulf to the nearest grubbiness, I weighed myself and found I had gained eight pounds.

There is your diet, Miss Kerr. Take it away.

Far, far away.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A 4½-year-old Melchios boy received minor cuts and bruises when he was in collision with a car outside his home as he rushed to meet his father coming home from work Wednesday.

Donald Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Anderson, 1146 Melchios, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment and was reported today in good condition.

Mrs. Anderson said the accident happened just before 5 p.m. when Donald, hearing the air brakes of the navy bus bringing Mr. Anderson home, ran from the backyard and started across the road as a car approached to pass the bus.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: B.C. Electric Co. Ltd., $20 Pandora, $5 each on two charges of parking buses on a street outside a designated taxi area.

In city police court Wednesday:

C & C Taxi Service Ltd., 906 Government, $5 for parking outside taxi area.

In Colwood RCMP court Wednesday:

William Morrow, Langford, $200 and $8 costs for impaired driving; driver's licence restricted to business use only for six months.

William Pilkington, 618 Craigflower, was placed on $500 bond for six months good behavior when he appeared in city police court today charged with assault causing bodily harm to his wife Constance.

Sentence was suspended when accused agreed to being placed on probation, entering into the bond and not to drink alcohol during the period.

Ernest G. B. Stevens, provincial inspector of jails, has been appointed director of correction, the B.C. Cabinet announced today.

S. Rocksborough Smith, director of New Haven, is appointed acting deputy director of correction.

Protests at New Business Tax Keeps City Hall Phones Agog

Protests aimed at Victoria's new business tax and trade licence system kept telephones ringing in the assessor's office at City Hall today.

"Everyone is answering phones," said assessor Jack Ozard.

The main objection is the extreme jump in the levy from the old system, experienced by some businesses in high-rent areas, he added.

"Some are complaining at the assessments. Some indicate they will appeal to the court of revision."

Mr. Ozard said the court will open in council chambers Oct. 7 and will continue until all appeals have been heard.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Fraser, Crescent return 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Orion on training cruise, returns 6.30 p.m. Tuesday.

Doubt Clouds 'Castaway' Story About Local Yacht

The South Seas "mystery" involving the B.C. yacht Flying Walrus continued to simmer today, with conflicting reports received from Auckland, N.Z., Suva, in the Fiji Islands, and Vancouver, B.C.

Latest reports have the 38-foot ketch, owned by school teacher John Wells and his wife, Diane, at Mangareva on Aug. 14. The Flying Walrus, which was here during the summer of 1956 as a radio boat on Juan de Fuca Strait swims, was to have stayed at Mangareva for 10 days.

Doubt still surrounds earlier reports that Mr. and Mrs. Wells put a castaway ashore at lonely Henderson Island, 125 miles from the Pitcairn group.

July 28. The castaway has been identified as Robert Tomarchin, a television advertising man from New York.

The South Pacific air-sea rescue organization does not believe the yacht could have arrived at Henderson much before Aug. 28.

Tomarchin, whose only companion on the island was a pet chimpanzee, is now believed on his way to Pitcairn aboard a surf boat. But some Australian papers are still reporting that he is stranded on the island because of unfavorable winds.

Lack of direct communication with the island keeps the final issue in doubt.

'CERTAINLY NOT ULTRA-MODERN'

Government House to Blend Old, New

The new Government House in Victoria will be "a dignified blend" of old and new styles of architecture, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant announced today.

"It will certainly not be ultra-modern," he added.

Mr. Chant said his architects have agreed on the general plan of the new building—replacing the one which burned down last March—and based on the average rental paid by surrounding stores. The percentage of the assessment to be charged as tax will be set by council when the court of revision has completed any alterations to the roll. It is expected to be 7 per cent.

Although the tax system must raise $460,000 compared to $300,000 raised through trade licences alone in previous years, the system will see businesses pay either trade licence or business tax, whichever is greater.

Individual trade licence fees are unchanged from 1956 although some revision is contemplated by Ald. Hugh Ramsay's special committee.

JUST MAILED

Business tax is based on assessed rental values of all stores and offices. A roll has been completed and assessment notices have just been mailed. It is thought to be these which stirred up the lively telephone campaign.

Assessed rental values are

Three teen-aged Saanich boys involved in misdemeanors last week were dealt with in Saanich juvenile court Wednesday.

Two 16-year-olds were placed on probation and one 17-year-old has yet to appear in court for the part they played in shoving a 15-year-old girl into waters of the Gorge.

SOLDIER FINED

Third sentence went to a 17-year-old Camp Gordon Head soldier charged with obstructing police outside a Douglas Street dance hall which closed its doors after a number of fights broke out.

Fined $25 and turned over to army authorities, the soldier was accused of injuring two girls, aged 14 and 15, as he attempted to back from a parking place outside the dance hall.

Guest speaker at the annual banquet Friday will be Maj. General C. A. P. Murison of Duncan.

Election of officers will be held Saturday afternoon.

Uses of Asphalt in Smaller Municipalities, by S. L. Caniffie, Victoria consulting engineer; and "Administration and Management," by Victoria city engineer J. C. Garnett.

Convention chairman is H. D. Dawson, retired municipal engineer for Saanich.

Guest speaker at the annual banquet Friday will be Maj. General C. A. P. Murison of Duncan.

Election of officers will be held Saturday afternoon.

Construction of the new Government House should be at least modern in design and possibly "ultra-modern."

The Vancouver Island chapter of the Architectural Institute of B.C. urged the government to hold a competition among the B.C. architects to discover the most suitable design.

But this proposal was rejected by the government.

Council Ponders Convention Aid

Alderman Questions Legality

Victoria city council may take a second look at its recent decision to grant $2,100 to a national Chamber of Commerce convention dinner later this month.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay, who opposed the grant when council passed it Aug. 22, said he will ask council to reconsider in view of published protests by the public.

Ald. Ramsay said today he doubts the validity of the council resolution in view of the fact many members of council (seven it is reported, including Ald. Ramsay), are members of the chamber in Victoria. President of the Victoria chamber is Ald. A. I. Curtis.

AGAINST CUSTOM

It is customary in council, when a resolution affects an alderman or a firm with which he is connected, that the alderman withdraw while the vote is taken.

If this procedure were followed in the case of the chamber grant, there would be no quorum to vote on the matter.

Ald. Ramsay also pointed out the grant may make it difficult for council if the junior chamber asks similar treatment when it holds its national convention here in 1958.

Ald. J. Donald Smith, who sided earlier with Ald. Ramsay, doubted today council would be able to back out of its commitment. But he added, "It was wrong before and it's still wrong."

FUNDS RUN LOW

The chamber convenes here Sept. 29 and opens with the buffet dinner. Oak Bay and Saanich are giving a total of $700 toward the anticipated cost of $2,800.

Earlier this year council voted to make entertainment grants only to organizations connected with municipal government.

When the chamber request came in, the city's budgeted entertainment fund of $3,000 was down to $1,400 and another $700 is to be taken from the contingency fund. This is also opposed by Ald. Ramsay who holds the contingency fund is set up for emergencies.

Municipal Engineers Meet Friday

Major aspects of municipal engineering will be covered at the 1957 convention of the municipal engineers' division, Association of Professional Engineers of B.C., which starts a two-day convention here Friday at the Empress Hotel.

About 300 delegates are expected with registration starting tonight.

Papers to be heard include "Air Pollution Control" by J. Satterthwaite, Vancouver smoke inspector; "Storm Water and Open Channels," by D. A. Welsh, assistant municipal engineer, North Vancouver; "Photography and Records," by H. T. Libby, B.C. Electric; "Location of Utilities," by T. A. Whelan, consulting engineer; "Time and Method Study," by L. B. Kellogg, management consultant.

Uses of Asphalt in Smaller Municipalities, by S. L. Caniffie, Victoria consulting engineer; and "Administration and Management," by Victoria city engineer J. C. Garnett.

Convention chairman is H. D. Dawson, retired municipal engineer for Saanich.

Guest speaker at the annual banquet Friday will be Maj. General C. A. P. Murison of Duncan.

Election of officers will be held Saturday afternoon.

Speedy Fire Guts Saanich Residence

An Admirals Road couple who lived without fire insurance for 36 years then took their first policy a few months ago lost their home to fire Wednesday.

Firemen blamed spilled frying pan grease for the blaze which gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Minnings, 2865 Admirals.

But Mrs. Minnings, 62, says, "We never had a fire insurance policy until now—and I'm darn sure that's why it burned."

Mrs. Minnings, almost hysterical after barely escaping the blaze which started with explosive force, celebrated her birthday Monday and her 37th wedding anniversary Tuesday. By 3 p.m. Wednesday she was homeless.

She watched from a neighbor's home as Saanich firemen, directed by chief Joseph Law, extinguished the blaze in 15 minutes.

But prompt as the firemen were, the fire was faster. Everything was lost or damaged except for a few clothes and bedroom items, the wash on the line, and a pitiful few possessions grabbed from the flames by passers-by.

Driver of a passing bus, Alf Jennings, brought out a $100 case of new silver presented to the Minnings just this week. Firemen retrieved Mrs. Minning's purse, her husband's shot gun and a box of shells.

Mrs. Minnings saved some items herself. After rushing from her burning home, she ran to a bedroom window, wriggled through far enough to reach her glasses and a cherished picture of her brother who died in the First World War.

Mr. and Mrs. Minnings had eaten at about 2 p.m. just before Mr. Minnings left for his watchman's job. While preparing the meal, Mrs. Minnings spilled a frying pan of cooking grease. It spread over the stove and ran on the kitchen floor.

Her husband told her to leave it until the stove became cool. He went to work and Mrs. Minnings lay down in the bedroom.

At about 2.15 she saw smoke in the hall.

"Then I heard this popping and crackling, and opened (the kitchen) door... all the kitchen wall was flaming."

Mrs. Minnings' main worry, despite her ruined home, was the effect the news would have on her husband. He has a weak heart. He was told of

Local Man Wins $150 UBC Grant

Local winner of a $150 grant, awarded by UBC for continued study at the university, is Michael Schulzer, 21, of 3095 Carey Road.

Eight scholarships totalling $1,475 were awarded. It was announced today.

Michael is in his fourth year at UBC taking a mathematics honors course. He has been working during the summer in the provincial department of education.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—I have been intrigued with the term "tarantella" as applied to a few pieces of music I've seen. What does it mean? K.F.

A.—It's a lively Italian dance in which the speed increases to the end. It got its name from the fierce hairy spider tarantula which inhabits hot countries and has a poisonous bite, fatal to small animals and popularly supposed to be dangerous to humans. People once believed that the only cure was fast music which inspired the victim to dance until he fell exhausted, bathed in perspiration.

Q.—How do teas get their trade names? L.F.

A.—They are named from the position of leaves on the stem of tea plants. The nearer the tip, the better the grade. Flowery orange pekoe is tops.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Innovations in Foods And Toys for Your Pets

By PENNY SAVER

George Eliot said, "Animals are such agreeable friends, they ask no questions, they pass no criticisms." This quotation popped into my mind when, on my rounds today, I came upon some items for our pets.

Wouldn't it be interesting to know what animals think of the new innovations in their foods and toys?

My guess is that they would be as pleased as I was when I came across such a novelty as a "budgie scale." This is a tiny scale complete with weight and mirror that your parakeet can jump on and off. Your budgie would be a happy if not a clever bird for only 75c.

You've heard of "booties" for babies. Well, the latest fad for dogs and cats is to wear waterproof boots. Actually they are very practical, as they can be put on a sore paw or the animal's feet when he goes out into the wet weather, then removed when he comes into the clean house. These booties are $1.75. They come in bright colors.

If your puppy likes to throw his food about, then the new pliable plastic dishes are for him. They can't break and they have deep sides to keep the food in. These bowls can be bought for 95 cents.

Of course, food is needed in that bowl, and buying dog and cat meal in bulk will save you many pennies. In a variety of brands, this meal comes at 25 cents and up.

"My dog has fleas." Well, if he has, I have found the answer. A flea collar. This collar has a flea repellent mixed into the fabric so that those little bugs don't dare to come near your pet... only 60 cents.

If you animal owners and lovers would like to know where I shopped today, phone me at 23131.

Soft Flares, Supple Lines, Touches Of Fur Add Word 'Pliant' to Fashion

The new fall fashion silhouette as presented by the Hudson's Bay Company in the Douglas Room, this morning at a coffee party and again this afternoon at the tea hour, stresses the word "pliant."

Of Personal Interest

From Out of Town

In Victoria last Saturday for the Lowrie-Westaway wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. Westaway of Medicine Hat; Mr. and Mrs. W. Batten, Mr. and Mrs. A. Merrifield, Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. D. Allen, all of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. G. Barrias and Mr. Murry Woolbridge, of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. R. Harper of Courtenay; Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Limb with Vera and David, of Comox; and Mrs. R. Kohl, Ocean Falls.

To Ottawa

Mrs. George R. Pearkes, wife of Canada's defence minister, has left Victoria to join her husband in Ottawa. Mrs. A. de B. MacPhillips, wife of the member for Victoria, will leave for the capital in early October.

In Hollywood

In the chapel of Hollywood Presbyterian Church, Hollywood, Calif., wedding vows were exchanged recently by Lillian Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Emory of Victoria and John Van Frey, only son of Mrs. A. John Frey and the late Mr. Frey of West Los Angeles. Only attendant was Miss Joan Bacon formerly of Victoria and now of Beverly Hills, Calif. The best man was Carl Mazel. The young couple are now at home at 2209 1/2 South Beverly Glen Boulevard, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Honeymooners

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Park who were married recently in Montreal, have been visiting with their aunt Mrs. M. M. Bridge at 1266 Oscar Street. En route back to eastern Canada they stayed with cousins in Vancouver before continuing their trip on by air.

Montreal Family

From Montreal are Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Macpherson (nee Miss Dawn Josephs) and family, to spend a month with Mrs. Macpherson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Josephs, 1707 Lee Avenue.

From East

Returned from Montreal by air is Mrs. S. Sadkowsky, 1221 Fairfield Road. She has spent the last three weeks with her sister, Mrs. G. McTaggart, and brother, Col. G. Ibbotson, in the east.

Dress tops are as supple as pullover sweaters; skirts show a softness flared by pleats. A touch of fur is a stroke of fashion.

Fabrics are rich in texture, vibrant in crown jewel colors. Colors turn up in stockings, too, and hats, especially the ever popular cloche, swoosh and soar into lovely lines.

The showings are to be repeated again on Friday and Saturday in the Douglas Room, both morning and afternoon. Fashion details in coats included, ear-touching collars, a hint of a yoke gently controlled fullness. Fur collars add a touch of elegance.

Vibrant tartans are shown in smart sportswear. To spark the winter scene, a smart sheath was shown for afternoon wear, in lovely clear red, the artfully draped, gently bloused bodice and scarf tied neckline the main notes of interest.

A two-piece cocktail ensemble in satin faced brocade, woven with Oriental symbols of good luck, was outstanding. The little coat is fully lined in taffeta and the sheath dress was styled for utmost figure flattery. Only trim is a sparkling frost of pearls and rhinestones placed at the oval neck of the dress. For after-five beauty there is a Suzy Perette original in midnight black velvet and corded silk styled with the new point apron panel and with princess line skirt.

An afternoon dress in monochromatic grey and black spice by jewel green accessories showed panel pleats at back of the skirt and seams set to make a perfectly tapered and fitted curve that brings flattery to the mature figure.

Highlight in the evening gown presentation was an Empress Eugenie formal of scrolled Guipure lace and black silk, finished with a tulle lined Sabrina neckline and with bustled hipline and swagged pout of silk taffeta. Caught in the folds of the skirt is a hand-made French rose. The skirt is slightly in train.

Finale of the showing was a bridal scene with the mother of the bride in rose silk organza; the bridesmaids in waltz-length gowns of pink, flame and blue nylon chiffon and the bride in an elegant white brocade taffeta gown, slightly in train, and with bateau neckline and lily-point sleeves.

Miss Adele Gault is commentator for the showings and the mannequins, Viola Lucas, Doris Usher, Ellen McConchey, Mary Rawnley and June Charlton.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Calorie Counting Is Boring; You Can Reduce Without It

Many women who wish to reduce will not count calories. Others mean to but never begin. Let's face it! It does become somewhat boring. It is like keeping a budget. You have the best intentions and go along smoothly for a while. Then in the rush of living you fall to write down the number of dollars (calories) you have spent for several days. What a mess! You try to remember back but end up with an unaccounted-for deficit.

So, I would like to help those of you who want to lose weight but who will not count calories. If you will abide by the following suggestions, you can lose without counting calories:

1. Leave off in between snacks except for those which are an essential part of your diet such as fresh fruit or milk or fruit juice.
2. Control bread intake — no more than three slices a day.
3. Substitute fresh fruit for dessert.
4. Broil, bake or boil your food. Avoid fried foods.
5. Drink skim milk or buttermilk or powdered, fat-free milk.
6. Go easy on butter and salad dressings. If you are seriously reducing, use one of the low calorie dressings.
7. Leave off cream, gravy, nuts and fat meat.

You should distribute your food in any way which seems best for you. If you want to eat five small 'meals' rather than three larger ones, do so—but eat about the same amount you would get in the three. For instance, you may want to eat an apple, drink your daily quota of fruit juice or one of your two or three glasses of milk in between meals or just before going to bed. This is a good idea when you are eating less than usual because it keeps that hollow feeling away.

This is important! If you are going to try to reduce without calorie counting, be sure that you get up from the table feeling as though you could enjoy a little more. Never eat until you feel "stuffed."

Time Short? Go By Bus!

By KITTY DIXON

If your time in Europe is limited, see it by bus tour. Giving a bit of advice to prospective travellers, Miss Pat White, just home from a 14-month stint with the Air Force in Gros Tenquin, France, said: "You'll be disappointed if you rent a car and rely on luck. Put yourself into the hands of people who know, and you'll see everything there is to see in a short time."

Kept busy with her job as RCAF recreation specialist, Miss White had little time for sightseeing.

Most of the time she did have was spent on bus tours which took her to points of interest in Italy, Spain, Austria, Switzerland and France.

"I'm certainly glad I did it that way! There's so much I would have missed, had I travelled on my own," she said.

"What's more, in such countries as Italy and Spain, it's especially difficult to get about by yourself if you can't speak the language."

Now at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. White, 3230 Upper Terrace, and her brothers and sister, Peter, and twins Bobby and Jane, Pat is looking for a job.

She will choose some sort of office work, and it would not be surprising if she were to end up in a travel bureau, as part of her duties as recreational specialist in France was operating a travel office.

Planning recreational activities for Air Force personnel in France was Miss Pat White's job for 14 months.

It was this "duty" that took highlight of her 14 months overseas. Pat to Paris for four wonderful weeks.

After three years' service in the RCAF, "LAC White" is once not too busy to prevent her more civilian, "Miss White". But from seeing the sights of Paris, she's a lot wiser for her air making her four days there a force experience.

A LOTTA SUN, MRS. FLOWER

Maybe it's because the sun finally has caught up with the season here. Anyway, Mrs. Andy Anderson of 1754 Kings Road is boasting about this unusual sunflower in her hubby's garden. It has thrown 14 separate blossoms branching off a single stem, and is considered something of a freak by horticulturists who say a six-blossom sunflower is considered "a good show." (Times photo.)

SECRETARY'S 'CODE'

Little White Lies OK ---But Not to Boss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Should the ideal secretary be willing to fib for her boss?

"Oh, yes—if they're simply little white lies," said Miss Sheila Ward, of Montreal, who is ideal in several ways. "You have to do that to get him off the hook."

"But a secretary should never tell one to her boss—that would not be good teamwork—and he shouldn't tell her any. How can she help him if he doesn't tell her the truth?"

Miss Ward, who is 34, blonde, pretty and blue-eyed, last July won an international contest for secretaries.

MANY-SIDED GIRL

In or out of the office, Sheila, secretary for R. A. Neale, a vice-president of Canadian Limited, is quite a girl.

She holds a degree in advertising and merchandising from McGill University. She has been a corporal in the RCAF. She can sing, play the piano and violin. She likes skiing, tennis and swimming. She is an inventive cook. She can speak and write English and French and can also get along in Norwegian, Danish, German, Italian and Spanish. She can write speeches.

What perhaps makes her even more unusual as a secretary is that she can also type fast and sell well.

OFFICE RULES

Here are a few tips she has for girls who aspire to be ideal secretaries:

1. Dress neatly. Don't wear hange, gingerbread jewellery.

GOOD RECORD NEEDED

Army Post in North Rated as Toughest

By DAVE MCINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—A posting to Fort Churchill, Man., is apparently the toughest any soldier can receive in Canada.

A new army order decrees that a tour of duty at an establishment in northern Canada is for three years—except at Fort Churchill.

A posting to Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay is for two years in the case of married soldiers accompanied by their families and for one year for single soldiers or married soldiers not accompanied by their families.

Unmarried officers and men get first priority on postings to northern establishments, followed by married men without children and married men with children.

The new order also specifies that only men with two years' experience in the regular army can be posted to northern stations.

GOOD CONDUCT RULE

"Because of the transportation difficulties involved and the lack of provost police service available it is imperative that other ranks who have a record of misconduct or who are thought likely to become military offenders are not selected for such postings," says the order.

"Commanding officers will ensure that members nominated for postings to establishments in northern Canada are of good character and behavior, free of obvious personal or family difficulties, competent and qualified for the duties involved and unlikely to require trade or specialty or other qualifying courses during their northern tour of duty."

HOLD COST DOWN

Main object is to make sure the army doesn't have the expense and inconvenience of bringing a man out of the north unnecessarily once he has been posted there for his tour of duty.

A man can be given an extension to his normal tour in the north only if he volunteers for it.

City Prosecutor Says Farewell To Police Court

City lawyer Alan Bigelow made his farewell to police court as city prosecutor Wednesday and prepared to devote full time to his private legal practice.

His duties will be assumed by city solicitor T. P. O'Grady, who holds the contract for all the city's legal business.

By arrangements with Mr. O'Grady, Mr. Bigelow took over as prosecutor five years ago. Addressing Magistrate H. C. Hall, Mr. Bigelow said: "Your Honor, this is my last day in police court as prosecutor. I'd like to thank the court for the many courtesies extended during the last five years."

The magistrate replied the association has been "very pleasant."

In 1887 St. Catharines, Ontario, became the first city in Canada to have electric street cars.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then Ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Eileen Krueger, aged 13, of Washington, Ill., for her question:

Is There Actually a Bird Who Cannot Fly?

We tend to envy the birds because they are free to fly and soar in the sky. To do this, a bird has traded his arms for wings, his bones are light and slender, his body contains air sacs and he keeps warm with a coat of light feathers and down. His muscles are in his chest, fixed to a breastbone shaped like the keel of a ship. These are the muscles that power his wings. Without them and his keel breastbone he could not fly.

There are a number of birds in the world who do not have keel-shaped breastbones. These fellows have flat breastbones, like rafts. They are called the ratite birds, from an older word meaning raft. Ratite birds have wings, feathers and bird-like heads and legs. But they cannot fly. In the dim past these fellows descended from flying birds, but through countless generations they gave up flying. They finally lost the power of flight.

Most of the ratite birds are big fellows. In fact, one of them is the largest bird in the world. He is the stately ostrich who enjoys life on the warm plains of Africa. The smallest of the ratites is about as large as a small turkey. He is the kiwi of New Zealand, a fussy fellow whose feathers look like shaggy brown hair. Mrs. Kiwi weighs four pounds and lays an egg weighing one pound, which makes her the world's champion egg layer for her size.

The Australians adopted one of the large ratites as their national bird. He is the emu, a five foot tall runner of the plains and brush land. He is also a fine swimmer and a devoted father. Mrs. Emu lays the eggs in a nest on the ground. But it is Mr. Emu who broods on them eight weeks until they hatch, then educates them himself.

The Cassowary is a large ratite bird on New Guinea. He is said to be the most dangerous bird in the world, for his clawed feet kick out in any direction for little or no reason. Since he is a heavy bird, five feet tall, his iron-clad kick packs quite a wallop.

The ratite birds of the New World are the rheas of South America. The plump rhea is a cousin of the African ostrich. Like all the ratites, he can run like the wind, but he cannot fly. Mr. Rhea enjoys life with two or three wives, but he is just as good a father as the ostrich and the emu, who have only one wife apiece. Papa Rhea sits on the eggs until they hatch, even when the nest contains dozens of eggs.

Few ratite birds could fly even if they had keel-shaped breastbones. Through the ages they have become too heavy for flight. In order to take to the air a bird must be under 30 pounds in weight and a big ostrich may weigh 300 pounds. Other large birds besides ratites have also lost the power of flight. The penguin traded his pinioned wings for flippers and covered himself with heavy blubber to keep out the cold. These non-flying birds seem odd to us but there are a number of them in the world. * * *

Andy sends a Hammond's Ambassador World Atlas to William Stinnett, age 12, of Liberty, Texas, for his question:

Why Does a Compass Always Point North?

The compass needle is a magnet and a magnet is very sensitive to other magnets. The two ends of a magnet are called opposite poles. One is the north-seeking pole. The other the south-seeking pole. The north-seeking pole of one magnet attracts and clings to the south-seeking pole of another. Two north poles or two south poles repel, or spring apart from each other. Even the smallest of bar magnets effect each other in this manner.

All of them are effected by the biggest magnet of all, which is the giant earth itself. This massive magnet also has two poles and these poles attract or repel the poles of all the small magnets—which includes the compass needle. The north-seeking pole of the compass swings around to point to the earth's north pole. The south-seeking pole points out the earth's south pole.

Safety High Set By Trail Earns Kudos

TRAIL (CP)—Letters of praise came to Trail Wednesday from various parts of Canada and the United States, commending the city and its citizens for having achieved 1,000 successive days without a traffic fatality.

It is the best record in British Columbia for cities over 10,000 population.

Letters from Canada's Prime Minister, British Columbia's premier and the White House in Washington headed the list of distinguished commendations.

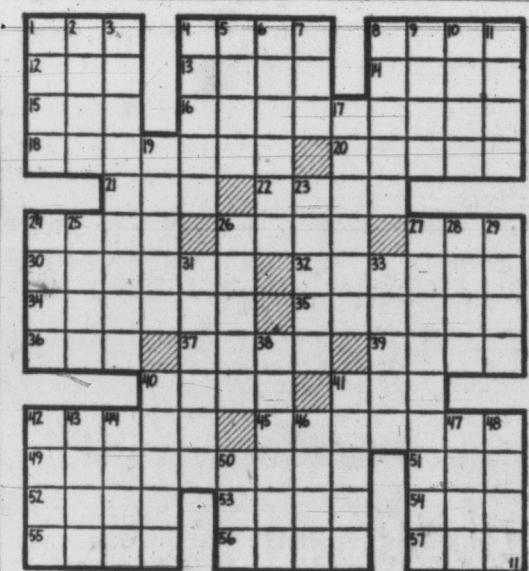

The last fatality in Trail occurred Dec. 15, 1954, when Janet Marie Hurlbert, 4½, was fatally injured when struck by a truck at an intersection.

France Warned Tunisia Ready To Defend Border

TUNIS, Tunisia (Reuters)—President Habib Bourguiba Wednesday told French Ambassador Georges Gorse that Tunisia will use every means, including armed force, to defend the security of her frontiers, sources close to the presidency said.

Tuesday night Tunisian Minister of State Behi Ladhkham protested to a French Embassy official that French troops crossed from Algeria, into Tunisia and kidnapped four Tunisian civilians after searching houses. This was denied in Paris today.

It was the third time in 10 days that Tunisia has complained to France that French troops have entered her territory.

New Centre Aids Women Addicts

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—A rundown motel at nearby Whalley has been converted into an institution to help women alcoholics.

Called the Good Hope Rehabilitation Centre, the institution is to help "the hopeless female drinker" for whom nothing has been done so far except handing out a jail sentence.

The 40 volunteers who make up the Good Hope Society believe that interest and affection is what the women alcoholics need most.

"These women have reached the stage where they are convinced no one cares what happens to them, that life is no longer worth living," a spokesman said.

The centre is not connected with Alcoholics Anonymous but the women will have the counsel of others who have stopped obsessive drinking.

WEDDING GIFTS STOLEN

VANCOUVER—The honeymoon is gone, and so are some of the wedding presents for a newly-wed Vancouver couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lingenfelter discovered their basement suite had been broken into when they returned home from work Wednesday.

The loot included silverware valued at $215, a wristwatch worth $165, a radio and other wedding presents, besides an assortment of jewellery.

HOSPITAL NEED STRESSED

KAMLOOPS—A resolution criticizing Health Minister Eric Martin for lack of action concerning building of a hospital here will be sent to the health department from city council.

Alderman Campbell Carroll, city representative on the board of Royal Inland Hospital, sponsored the resolution which urges Mr. Martin to take immediate action. It says the minister approved in principle more than two years ago the construction of an addition to the hospital.

GAS PROPOSAL REJECTED

CHILLIWACK—A resounding "no" echoed throughout Chilliwack municipality Wednesday when a record number of property owners rejected a council proposal that the municipality borrow $1,000,000 to construct a distribution system and sell natural gas to the residents and business firms. The controversy raged for months with the final outcome at the poll Wednesday night: No 1,715, yes 621.

BLASTS UNION "BIG SHOTS"

VANCOUVER—Harvey Murphy, national vice-president of the Mine, Mill and Smelters Union, Wednesday attacked what he called "big shot" union leaders.

"They wander around like presidents of holding companies in $150-a-day hotel suites, with bodyguards, big limousines, and get paid $50,000 a year," Mr. Murphy said at the union's convention here.

"It's no wonder shady characters sneak into the unions and take them over when the rank and file members have no say in their union's affairs."

BOOTLEGGERS ON SPOT

VANCOUVER—Fines resulting from a June roundup of suspected bootleggers now total $3,800. Lorne McLaren, 54, was fined $300 Wednesday. He was the 11th of 15 suspects to be fined.

COURT ENDS PICKETING

VANCOUVER—An injunction was issued in Supreme Court here Wednesday restraining Local 2068 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America from further picketing of a school construction project at Vananda on Texada Island. Alexander W. Gillis, president of A. W. Gillis

COUNTERFEIT BILL GIVEN TO PAY FINE

VANCOUVER—(CP)—A counterfeit dollar bill turned up here Wednesday night—at police headquarters.

Officers were left holding the phony bill after it was passed unnoticed to Doreen Zaporzan, traffic department clerk in payment of a fine.

Police said the bill was a good reproduction although the ink was faded and the background inscriptions were missing.

POWER POLES FALL

Tots Narrowly Dodge Death

Two power line poles with wires bearing 2,300 volts crashed to the ground in Victoria West Wednesday only a few feet from where a group of children were playing.

There were no injuries and city police arrived minutes later to keep children and others clear. The downed poles were on Evans near Raynor.

B.C. Electric workers found both poles rotted at the base. "Somebody upstairs was looking out for those children," said eye-witness Edward Sims, 658 Langford. His home faces on the fallen poles. The home was once owned by W. C. Mainwarling, Vancouver, vice-president of the B.C. Electric.

"At least two of the children were standing just moments before, where one of the poles fell." One fell across Evans Street, blocking it. The other fell across a vacant lot, often used by the youngsters.

Mr. Sims said there are other poles in the neighborhood showing signs of rot in the base. One, still standing nearby the fallen two, showed a 10 degree list.

HATFIELD, England (CP)—Russian will be taught to third year pupils at Hatfield School next term.

CUSTOMS FINE MAKES STRAIT SWIM COSTLY

Everyone knows Ben Laughren is a fine swimmer, and Canadian Customs thinks so also.

They fined him and navigator Dave McMillan $100 for not reporting to them after a July attempt to swim Juan de Fuca from Port Angeles to Victoria, washed out because of boat trouble.

Ben said he plans his 14th attempt on Juan de Fuca Sept. 22 from Ediz Hook on the U.S. shore. He'll attempt the tougher Victoria-U.S. swim later if he makes it.

LIFE ON STAGE

Kate Josephine Bateman, American-born actress who died in London in 1917, first appeared on stage at the age of four.

Top Rocket Explodes 'Like Roman Candle'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—An army intermediate-range Jupiter missile, generally conceded to be the most advanced rocket in the U.S. arsenal, was fired here Tuesday night but apparently exploded 20 miles in the sky.

The defence department, as usual, refused to comment officially on the success of the firing or even disclose the type of missile. However, authorities in Washington identified it as the Jupiter, designed to fly 1,500 miles with a nuclear head.

LIKE ROMAN CANDLE

A witness who watched the projectile blast away from the launching pads from several miles away, said it "blew to pieces like a Roman candle coming apart" several minutes after leaving the ground.

There have been rumors that experts were readying an intercontinental Atlas missile for test firing this week, but the witness said Tuesday night's missile "was big but didn't seem big enough to be an Atlas."

The defence department in Washington declined other comment and authorities here would not even confirm a missile had been fired.

DESTROYED IN AIR

The last test firing of the Atlas in June went amiss and the missile was destroyed about 5,000 feet in the air. The long-range Atlas is capable of carrying nuclear warheads from one continent to another.

REDS CLAIM MISSILE TO DOWN ROCKET

MOSCOW (AP)—Effective counter-missiles that can destroy intercontinental rockets are possible, says a Soviet rocket warfare expert. In the wake of Russia's claim to have developed an intercontinental missile, Maj.-Gen. G. I. Pokrovsky wrote Wednesday that two observation points could take fixes on an ultrasonic missile and fire atomic-armed counter-missiles.

Indians Would Pay Homage to Queen

VANCOUVER (CP)—An Indian chief has asked Ottawa for a special section for Indians along the route Queen Elizabeth will travel when she opens parliament next month.

WIRE BRIEFS

15,000 Homeless

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—A flood left 15,000 homeless in Nicaragua's Leon department today. Only 18 miles away ashes from an erupting volcano destroyed more than 2,000 acres of cotton.

Jet Explodes, 3 Die

BASTROP, La. (AP)—A jet bomber from Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., exploded in flight about five miles south of here today leaving three known dead. One airman parachuted to safety.

Bodies Identified

CALGARY (CP)—The bodies of two men found crushed in a Canadian Pacific Railway gondola car Wednesday have been identified as Lewis Harrison, 17, and Eddie Purcell, 28, both believed to be from Vancouver.

Purge in Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (UP)—The government today counted on a sweeping purge of high military and police officers to tighten security measures against the rebels of Fidel Castro.

KISS MISS STILL BLISS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ma-noucher Shojai, a bridegroom of three weeks, didn't kiss his new wife Tuesday when he greeted her for the first time in five months.

But it wasn't for lack of affection. Kissing, said Shojai, a native of Tehran, Iran, is not a Moslem custom. Shojai and his bride were married by proxy Aug. 25 to enable her to join him here after he decided to extend a trip to the United States and attend college.

ROYAL PAIR TO GET BRIEFING

Dress Fittings Rushed for Queen Getting Ready for Canada Tour

LONDON (CP)—The Queen today had final fittings of the clothes she will wear in Canada and the United States on the forthcoming royal tour.

A spokesman for dressmaker Norman Hartnell said "three or four" employees went to Buckingham Palace for the last adjustments.

Hardy Amies, another London couturier, said he has designed "some" day and evening clothes for the visit. He wouldn't say anything about their color or line, and so far no fashion writers have pierced the silk curtain.

Today was the Queen's first day in London since she left Aug. 8 for her annual holiday at Balmoral Castle in Scotland. She came primarily to open an international conference of parliamentarians. She will return to Scotland to resume her holiday, coming back to London probably about 10 days before she leaves for Canada Oct. 12.

Blast Rocks Plant

MONACA, Pa. (AP)—An explosion rocked the power plant of the big Kobuta chemical works of Kopper Company near this southwestern Pennsylvania community today.

A company spokesman in charge of the chemical division, which operates Kobuta said: "I have no details but it is very bad."

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

A witness, Norman Epstein, reported: "The whole place looks as if it had gone into the air. It is the big chemical works and all."

"I am two miles away and the fire is spreading rapidly."

A secretary at the Kobuta plant who spoke hurriedly through a plant telephone, declared:

1,000 Die In Floods In Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkish newspapers said today 1,000 persons died in floods which swept through the crooked streets of seven villages on Ankara's outskirts Wednesday. But the official death toll remained at 14—the number of bodies recovered.

In some areas the flood wave reached 90 feet as water from cloudbursts rushed down narrow valleys from barren, treeless mountain slopes.

Rescue teams groped through the muddy rivers, seeking victims of the flood-waters which swept into Ankara itself, covering low-lying areas and stalling traffic in waves of mud.

They estimated that 300 to 1,000 homes had been destroyed and more than 2,000 flooded. Premier Adnan Menderes hastened to the stricken villages today, and himself became stranded for a time by blocked highways.

The downpours hit an area extending from Ankara's suburbs to a village about 30 miles southeast.

Stag Hunt Blessing Gets Goat of 'Noah'

LONDON (Reuters)—The League Against Cruel Sports has asked the Archbishop of Canterbury to find out why an article was published in the Wiveliscombe, Devon church magazine suggesting that the hounds of the Devon and Somerset stag hunt be blessed on church premises before a hunt.

The article was signed "Noah the Recorder."

In its letter, the league states: "The mere idea of anything so foul and cruel as stag hunting receiving the blessing of a Christian clergyman in a Christian place of worship before they begin their fell work of driving a sentient animal to a violent death is thoroughly repugnant to all churchgoers."

The league further declared that the editor of the magazine, Rev. W. B. Norris, vicar of Simonsbath, declined to say who wrote the article.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Hold us this day, O Lord, to a concentration on the art of loving others by remembering to be thoughtful, kind, unselfish and controlled in thought, word and action, making outwardly manifest our loving concern as Christians for all Thy children, our families and friends and fellow workers. O Lord, help us to live this day in love and peace with all men in Christ's name. Amen.

Island Indian For Senate Post?

NANAIMO—Rev. Peter Kelly, DD, 72, president of the United Church of Canada, is being mentioned in Ottawa as a likely candidate for a senatorial appointment.

According to word from Ottawa, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is known to be considering the appointment of at least one Indian to the Upper House.

"I have heard nothing from Ottawa about such a move," Dr. Kelly said today, "but if I were fortunate enough to be appointed it would be a fitting climax to a long struggle by many people for recognition of Indians."

Born at Skidegate Mission in the Queen Charlotte Islands to Haida Indian parents, he worked as a logger and fisherman, and was married in 1906 at Port Essington, near Prince Rupert.

In 1910 he was admitted to the ministry of the Methodist Church, and in 1916 was ordained in Vancouver after taking theological training at Columbian College, New Westminster.

From 1916 to 1930 he looked after the Indian Mission at Nanaimo, then spent three years at Bella Coola. In 1933 he was named to the mission boat Thomas Crosby, and for the next 16 years travelled 1,200 miles per month in the Queen Charlotte Sound and Prince Rupert areas.

He received his Doctor of Divinity degree in 1947 at Union College, Vancouver, and since 1949 has served churches at Cumberland, Union Bay, Parksville, Errington, and Nanaimo.

It was in 1916 that he was elected chairman of the Allied Indian Tribes of B.C., and four years later was in Ottawa asking for retraction of the proposed compulsory enfranchisement bill.

He has made several other trips to Ottawa in the cause of Indian welfare, and has pressed the case of Indians in Victoria many times.

In 1954 he received the Corporation Medal from W. S. Arnel, commissioner for Indian affairs.

Murder, Suicide Under Probe At Island Camp

A suspected murder and suicide at a remote logging camp in the heart of Vancouver Island, believed the outcome of a bloody midnight fight, came to light following the death in Alert Bay Hospital Monday of Joseph L. Sumer-ville, 61-year-old logger.

According to RCMP, Sumer-ville was found Saturday, battered and unconscious, near a diesel plant at the Vernon Lake camp of Canadian Forest Products Ltd.

He was taken to hospital Sunday, and died Monday of head injuries.

Police investigated, and on Wednesday found near the camp the body of a 51-year-old logger they had meant to question, shot to death and with a shotgun beside him. He was not identified pending notification of next of kin, believed in Vancouver.

There were no reports of a disturbance at the camp, but police would not subscribe to a theory that machinery in the diesel plant could have caused the accident.

An inquest for identification purposes was held on Sumer-ville's death Tuesday. It is expected to reconvene Sept. 18 at Alert Bay.

Canadian Forest Products has seven logging camps in the Englewood area of the Island. Vernon Lake, furthest from the coast, is about 45 miles southeast of Alert Bay, and 50 miles west of Campbell River.

A joint statement made by the two sides said full agreement on all points at issue had been reached and the one-year contract is being prepared for signing next week.

The compromise settlement involves: No Wednesday and Sunday deliveries, won by the dairies. Wage increases of $30 a month for drivers and $32.50 for plant employees, retroactive to Jan. 1, won by the union. Introduction of the reduced schedule probably will be made in one to three weeks. A dairy spokesman said today timing will be discussed when the contract is signed. An announcement will be made before the change-over.

Milk prices may go up one or two cents a quart as a result of the $72,900 annual boost to the payroll the settlement provides. A dairy spokesman said price increases had not been discussed and were merely conjectural, but he added "draw your own conclusions" in view of the wage increases.

"There will be an announcement if and when the time comes," he said.

Last December a dairy spokesman said "it would be a miracle if we can escape a price increase if wages go up."

Vancouver dairies raised prices two cents a quart after smaller wage increases were made.

Leftist Leader, Nasser in Huddle

From UP and CP Dispatches
CAIRO, Egypt—The semi-official Egyptian Middle East News Agency reported that 12 persons were killed in a clash on the Syrian-Lebanese border today.

In a dispatch from Beirut, MENA quoted the Lebanese police command as saying that nine armed Syrian civilians and three Lebanese gendarmes were killed in the clash.

The 45-minute battle stepped up tension again on the border between the two Arab countries.

An interior ministry report said a gendarme patrol encountered the band as it was crossing the border from Syria into Lebanon near Dair As Hayer, a hilly district in northern Lebanon. The band fired on the gendarmes when ordered to halt.

In Cairo, Syria's military leader held urgent talks today with President Nasser and other Egyptian officials and declared that Syria is prepared to meet all "imperialistic conspiracies."

"Every Syrian national is prepared to shed his blood for the sake of preserving his country's independence," Gen. Afif Bizry, leftist commander-in-chief of the Syrian army, said in an interview with the newspaper Al-Ahram.

"Syria now is fortified against all imperialistic conspiracies and the people and the army are united in one front."

Asked to comment on charges that the U.S. government is seeking to overthrow Syria's regime, Bizry said:

"Americans do not only limit their adventures to movies, but they also yield to them in normal life, imagining that a dollar can do anything. They forget that this dollar has no place in a land of honor and dignity."

Informed sources said the talks continued into the early morning.

As they met, acting defence minister Khaled Azem of Syria said in Damascus he does not believe aggression against Syria is imminent. But he added that Syria has taken "all defensive measures to face every possibility."

U.S. COURT RULING

Wenner-Gren Tax Bumped $474,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States tax court Wednesday upheld internal revenue service claims that Continental Trading Inc., of Mexico City, owes this government some $474,000 additional income tax for the years 1948-50.

Continental Trading is owned by Axel Wenner-Gren, Swedish international financier. The company, filing U.S. tax returns in those three years, described itself as "a resident foreign corporation." It thus claimed to be eligible for substantial tax discounts on dividends which it collected in the United States for Wenner-Gren.

Internal revenue contended Continental was in fact a non-resident foreign corporation, whose U.S. dividend collections were taxable at the full rate.

The tax court said Continental was incorporated in Panama in 1947 to handle certain American investments of Wenner-Gren, including his substantial stock holdings in the Electrolux and Servel Corporations. The company established its principal office in Mexico City and, according to the decision, used Reno, Neb., as its American address.

Wenner-Gren, now 75, has had his headquarters in Mexico City for many years. The court estimated his wealth at more than a billion dollars.

He is the financier behind recently announced plans for surveys looking toward extensive developments in Northern British Columbia.

An estimated 118 drivers and 78 plant employees will get the increases, but the driver staff will be reduced one-sixth through normal turnover when the five-day delivery takes hold.

Some 165 union members voted in favor of strike action to back up their demands before settlement was made.

Dairies involved—Palm Dairies Ltd., Island Farms Co-operative Association, Shepherd's Dairy Ltd. and Northwestern Creamery Ltd.—supply about 90 per cent of the city's pasteurized milk.

Poland's Gomulka In Surprise Plug For Soviet Union

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (UP)—Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka surprised his Yugoslav hosts today by putting in a strong plug for the Soviet Union.

Know Your Teacher

21-Year-Old Starting Out New Career

A good-looking young man, only three years out of high school, has gone back to the elementary level to spread a little learning to the vacation-fresh minds of Grade Six students.

Bill Harris, 21, of 2876 Austin, is starting his teaching career at Lampson Street School.

On the first day of school, "I was very nervous," the new teacher said, "but nothing happened and the kids didn't know it. I hope."

Since then things have settled to normal except for "a little bit of confusion," he reports.

Bill Harris had always wanted to be a teacher. His brother Jack also teaches, this year in Burnaby.

BOOKKEEPER ONCE
Bill attended Victoria High School where he played on the soccer team. On graduation in 1954, he completed one year at Victoria College then worked as bookkeeper at Victoria Machinery Depot.

"It was just a job to earn money to go back to college," he said.

Next year he was back at college, this time in the new college of education here.

SEEKS DEGREE
Mr. Harris plans to attend summer school next year and eventually get his BA degree so that he can move up to the high school level. He hopes to specialize in biology and physical education.

In addition to his teaching duties at Lampson Street School, the young teacher also has grade seven classes in physical education, which jibes nicely with his hobbies of basketball and softball.

Lampson's new teacher isn't married—but he's engaged.

Israel Appeals For U.S. Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Israel formally appealed to the United States today "to strengthen all available deterrents against aggression in the Middle East."

The appeal was made to State Secretary Dulles by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, just back from consultations with his government in Jerusalem.

QUEBEC LIBERALS SEEK MARLER FOR TOP POST

MONTREAL (BUP)—A group of Quebec Liberals was reported today to be seeking the nomination of George Marler, former federal transport minister, as national leader of the party.

A caucus, attended by former Commons speaker Rene Beaudoin, was reported to have been held in the Windsor Hotel here Wednesday.

A segment of Quebec Liberals feel that Marler, who speaks fluent French, would stand a better chance of keeping the province a Liberal stronghold than would former external affairs minister Lester B. Pearson, who is being mentioned as Hon. Louis St. Laurent's logical successor.

Sloan Report Concern To B.C. Lumber Chiefs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Top executives of major B.C. forest industry companies say Chief Justice Gordon Sloan may have "gone too far" in protecting the smaller operator in his report on the industry.

The industry leaders, who are giving their views on the report freely as long as their names aren't quoted yet, said they will send detailed briefs to Premier Bennett praising the report but expressing concern and even alarm at some of its recommendations.

At present the smaller logger is entitled to a 30 per cent cut of crown-owned timber in recently-granted forest management licences.

One industry executive said under Chief Justice Sloan's recommendations, a smaller operator could obtain contracts to cut 100 per cent of the crown-held timber.

4 Men, Woman Named Canada's UN Team

OTTAWA (BUP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced Wednesday night that four men and a woman will make up the Canadian delegation to the 12th General Assembly of the United Nations which opens in New York Sept. 17.

The delegation will be headed by Dr. Sidney E. Smith, the new Secretary of State for External Affairs.

Other members of the delegation will be: Wallace Nesbitt, parliamentary assistant to the prime minister; Dr. R. A. MacKay, permanent representative of Canada to the UN; Mrs. Harry S. Quart, and Frank Lennard, MP.

Alternative representatives to the delegation will be: H. O. White, MP; T. Ricard, MP; Escott Reid; W. D. Matthews, assistant undersecretary of state for external affairs; and

E. B. Rogers, Canadian Ambassador to Peru.

Millionaire Takes Own Life, Father Killed Self in 1939

NEW YORK (AP)—Clendenin J. Ryan, 52, a millionaire reformer who stirred many a political tempest in New York City, killed himself at his plush Manhattan home today with a bullet in the brain.

In taking his own life, he followed in the footsteps of his father, Clendenin J. Ryan, Sr., who committed suicide by gas in the same five-story grey mansion August 21, 1939.

A cousin, Joseph B. Ryan, 44, like the younger Clendenin a grandson of the late financier Thomas Fortune Ryan, killed himself with a leap from a 22nd-floor New York hotel window on September 12, 1950.

Joseph Ryan owned the famous ski lodge at Mont Tremblant, Quebec.

He left notes to his wife and others, but police did not immediately disclose their contents or shed any light on his motive.

However, in connection with a recent lawsuit filed against Ryan in New Jersey, his lawyer asked that Ryan not be required to appear because of his mental state.

Ryan rose early today and called at the Ryan home to accompany him.

The two conferred briefly. Graneys told officers, and Ryan went into a bathroom about 7.30 a.m., asking the lawyer to "excuse me a moment."

Shortly afterwards, Graneys heard a noise like a shot but served in various capacities in Negroes who entered four of the La Guardia administration white schools here last week.

when considerable time went by without Ryan's reappearance, he went to investigate.

Ryan lay on the floor, his head pierced by a single shot from a .45 calibre automatic.

WIFE HEARD SHOT
Ryan's wife, Jean, had been in a bedroom and also heard the shot.

A son, Michael, 17, summoned police.

Ryan, who inherited a portion of his grandfather's $141,000,000 estate, and his wife, have four other children, ranging in age from 1½ years to 19 years.

BECAUSE YOU RUB SOAP ON YOUR SKIN

Whatever soap you buy you rub directly on your skin, thousands of times throughout the year. Naturally you want the purest, gentlest, nicest soap you can buy—and we think you will find it in Maple Leaf. It contains a deodorant that keeps you feeling luxuriously clean for hours, it offers the soothing addition of lanolin, and it's available in four lovely colours to match your bathroom... Aqua, Pink, White and Yellow. Honestly... you'll like Maple Leaf. It's the only deodorant beauty bar in Canada available in four colours!

I LIKE

TO GET OUT OF WASHING DISHES!

If you haven't tried the new Maple Leaf idea of soaking dishes instead of washing them you'll find it an interesting experiment.

Run steaming hot water directly into your dishpan and add one capful of Maple Leaf Liquid Detergent. Then slip the dirty dishes in loosely, so the hot sudsy water can circulate normally around them. Leave them alone for about twenty minutes and you'll find you can simply lift them out and stack them to drain sparkling dry! If this new idea works for you... it may mean that you'll never have to actually wash dishes again!

AS PURE AS SOAP CAN BE

There are several instances where a pure soap is the best washing agent you can use. Any clothing that touches a baby's tender skin, for instance, should be washed in a pure soap; your doctor will assure you of that! Woollens, nylons, fragile lingerie... anything that deserves gentle washing care will be safer in a pure soap like Maple Leaf. And that percentage of people who are allergic to detergents will also find Maple Leaf Pure Soap Flakes useful for general laundry. Because Maple Leaf Soap Flakes are as pure as soap can be—they are used by more Canadian women than any other soap flakes. Look for them at your grocers now!

Expert to Give Cruising Course

By DON INGHAM

A course designed especially for boat owners and potential pleasure boaters is being repeated this year at Victoria College after a successful introduction last year.

Titled "Cruising With Safety," it will be given by Richard V. James as one of the general courses given in the college evening division.

Topics to be discussed will include boat handling in general, mooring, docking and anchoring; government regulations and rules of the road; tides and tide tables, charts and coastwise navigation, wind and weather; the compass, its use and correction; Canadian and American buoyage systems; safety equipment; winterizing of vessels; care and maintenance of hull, engine, and sails; individual needs of boat owners; bends and splices; where to go, and how to get there.

It is a real course for a cruising family, and out of last year's enrollment of 72 exactly half were women, and one-quarter of the "students" were in families.

"It is as practical a course as it is possible to make it," Mr. James said. "When we talk about anchors, we'll have samples of all types on hand. When the lecture is on compasses there will be at least a dozen models and sizes in the classroom. When the subject is ropes and splices, the students will do the splicing. You can't learn that from a book."

Mr. James came across plenty of evidence that his class of last year found the course worth while.

MONEY SAVED

"One man figured I saved him $1,000 with a tip on engine care alone," he said. "Certainly he wouldn't have had an engine this spring if he hadn't done the proper thing with it during the winter."

While cruising this summer on his own craft, the 35-foot sloop Lalanga II, he came across several of his students and noted they were making good use of what they had learned.

Proof of its popularity was the devotion last year of four people from Duncan who braved the highway during the worst of the winter weather to attend classes. This year there will be 12 people from Duncan on the course.

Mr. James, a school teacher by profession, is a member of Royal Victoria Yacht Club and has been sailing waters between Olympia, Wash., and Alaska for 30 years. He is also a naval architect, and has about 14 ship designs to his credit.

The class will meet at the college each Wednesday for 12 weeks, starting Sept. 25, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Early registration is necessary to get on the course.

MUM IS WORD FOR SOPRANO LOIS MARSHALL

LONDON (CP)—For the next six days, soprano Lois Marshall isn't allowed to talk, let alone sing.

The Toronto artist picked up a touch of laryngitis at an open air concert in North Carolina last month before coming to the Edinburgh Festival.

Weldon Kilburn, Miss Marshall's accompanist and one-time teacher, said today that the ailment got steadily worse as she made her three Edinburgh appearances, followed by a concert at London's Royal Albert Hall Tuesday night.

Miss Marshall has cancelled an appearance in Holland as soloist in Verdi's Requiem in a performance commemorating the battle of Arnhem. For the next ten days "she won't even be allowed to say hello," Kilburn said.

JUDGE FINDS CHAIRS SEAT OF TROUBLE

WINSTON - SALEM, S.C. (AP)—A jury which Wednesday convicted a man of drunken driving returned a second verdict: the jurors' chairs are too hard.

"It's torture, just plain torture," said jury foreman Henry E. Ivester. "They get you across your back and just about cut you in two."

Judge L. Richardson Preyer examined the chairs himself and took judicial notice that "they do feel quite uncomfortable across the back."

The judge promised to pass along the complaint to county authorities.

Vessel From Israel Passed By Egyptians

PORT SAID, Egypt (Reuters)—The 2,716-ton Norwegian freighter Mars, carrying a cargo of cement and potash from Haifa, Israel, to Rangoon, Burma, was allowed to pass through the Suez Canal Wednesday after being held up here by Egyptian authorities.

STRIKE WON'T AFFECT LONG DISTANCE CALLS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The strike of 54,000 Communication Workers of America scheduled for Monday is not expected to affect long-distance telephone calls between B.C. and the United States.

"At no time in the past has an American strike ever bothered us," a B.C. Telephone spokesman said.

Donations Clear City Symphony

Victoria Symphony Orchestra starts this season financially ahead for the first time in its 16 year history, thanks to individual donations, society president Jack Barracough said today.

The season begins with a working capital of about $9,500. Mr. Barracough said the symphony society hopes to have $10,000 extra revenue each year from individual donors until the total reaches $50,000. This would eliminate the tenuous year-by-year operation of the orchestra and provide a backlog in case of a depression.

Conductor Hans Gruber termed the present working capital "a very encouraging sign."

Oak Bay municipality has sent $250 to the society, first ever received from a municipal government outside the city.

Esquimalt and Saanich have declined to contribute, while the city has indicated it may repeat last year's $2,500 grant.

In the first three days this season, about 1,140 tickets were sold. Total for last season was 1,400 tickets.

MAKING IT BIG

'Slim Jim' Kerr Discovers Dieting Breeds Fanatics

(This is the first report of reporter Dinah Kerr's nine-day Josephine Lowman eating experiment.)

By DINAH KERR

There's something about a diet that brings out a dangerous fanaticism in people.

My mother, for instance, completely lost her head when she learned I was going on Josephine Lowman's nine-day gaining diet starting today.

Right after dinner — a heavy dinner, mind you, and I wasn't even on the diet yet — she was consulting cook books and muttering over pots of brown rice and custard.

Timing bells were clanging like someone had broken the bank at Monte Carlo. And in the midst of the clamor, I lay propped in bed, stolidly munching on two cookies that my native bearer Andrew, 14, had trotted in. Eight hours later, relaxed but still skeletal, I rolled out of bed, mixed up a mess of mush, poached egg on toast and coffee and downed the works, dear Josephine.

I will not try to describe my feelings as I contemplated that egg. It is enough to say that I came close to striking my mother when she rounded the corner into the kitchen and carolled, "My, I guess you're looking forward to that milkshake this afternoon, eh?"

Speaking of fanaticism, my boss takes the cake (heavily frosted). When I announced this morning that I wouldn't give up smoking after all — Josephine had mentioned nothing about cigars — he flushed with anger and called me "weak" and "a moral coward."

He was quite right, of course. But he was wrong when he called me "No Guts" Kerr — because my stomach is rounding out nicely. And it will be a real thrill when some of that food, lying in a leaden heap at the bottom of my food factory, is distributed to the outlying areas of skinniness.

Food can be fun, after all, skinnies! So let's take a look at Friday's menu:

Breakfast — Orange juice, whole wheat cereal, four slices of bacon, one slice of buttered toast and coffee with cream and sugar.

Lunch — Tomato stuffed with cottage cheese, mayonnaise, celery on the side, milk, rolls and one piece of layer cake.

Mid-afternoon — Milk shake or glass of milk with cream.

Dinner — Grilled liver with onions, creamed carrots, bran rolls, stuffed potato, green asparagus, bread pudding and milk before retiring.

See you 'round!

MONTE ROBERTS

I see where our Miss Kerr is going on a diet, and the objective of this diet is to gain weight.

Which brings to mind a time when I went on a diet and thus gained weight.

This happened way back in the distant past, when I was about Miss Kerr's age, so possibly she could benefit by my experience.

There were four of us and two canoes on a holiday camping trip. With sleeping bags and a sketchy assortment of camp gear, we set out from Horseshoe Bay (the one on the mainland, not the Strait swim take-off point) to paddle up coast.

Our general idea was to paddle up for about half a week, then paddle home during the rest of the week.

Which was a dandy idea. But the weather was beautifully calm, and we decided to add a few miles of open water to our paddling stretch, and cut out across the gulf to Texada Island.

By this time, we were down to the bare necessities in the way of provisions, and we figured to restock on grub at a friend's camp, on the west side of the island.

We were about a mile off the south east tip of the island when the weather (as it does so often in the gulf) changed its mind. The wind she blew, the waves they grew, and we had to work rather hard to make it to shore.

In fact, we didn't bother to pick out the best spot to land—we just landed, and watched the sea kick itself into a furor.

And then, of course, came the rain. And more wind, and more waves.

We were marooned. For three days, the wind blew and the rain rained, and we were stuck on shore.

Which is where the diet comes in. For those three days, we lived on—I am not kidding—rock cod and stewed saal berries.

And on the last day of the three, there was no salt for the rock cod and no sugar for the saal berries.

So what happened? So when the wind dropped and we were able to paddle across the gulf to the nearest grubby, I weighed myself and found I had gained eight pounds.

There is your diet, Miss Kerr. Take it away.

Far, far away.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A 4½-year-old Metchoin boy received minor cuts and bruises when he was in collision with a car outside his home as he rushed to meet his father coming home from work Wednesday.

Donald Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Anderson, 1146 Metchoin, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment and was reported today in good condition.

Mrs. Anderson said the accident happened just before 5 p.m. when Donald, hearing the air brakes of the navy bus bringing Mr. Anderson home, ran from the backyard and started across the road as a car approached to pass the bus.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: B.C. Electric Co. Ltd., 820 Pandora, $5 each on two charges of parking buses on a street outside a designated taxi area.

In city police court Wednesday: C & C Taxi Service Ltd., 906 Government, $5 for parking outside taxi area.

In Colwood RCMP court Wednesday: William Morrow, Langford, $200 and $8 costs for impaired driving; driver's licence restricted to business use only for six months.

William Pilkington, 618 Craigflower, was placed on $500 bond for six months good behavior when he appeared in city police court today charged with assault causing bodily harm to his wife Constance.

Sentence was suspended when accused agreed to being placed on probation, entering into the bond and not to drink alcohol during the period.

Ernest G. B. Stevens, provincial inspector of jails, has been appointed director of correction, the B.C. Cabinet announced today.

S. Rocksborough Smith, director of New Haven, is appointed acting deputy director of correction.

Protests at New Business Tax Keeps City Hall Phones Agog

Protests aimed at Victoria's new business tax and trade licence system kept telephones ringing in the assessor's office at City Hall today.

"Everyone is answering phones," said assessor Jack Ozard.

The main objection is the extreme jump in the levy from the old system, experienced by some businesses in high-rent areas, he added.

"Some are complaining at the assessments. Some indicate they will appeal to the court of revision."

Mr. Ozard said the court will open in council chambers Oct. 7 and will continue until all appeals have been heard.

Individual trade licence fees are unchanged from 1956 although some revision is contemplated by Ald. Hugh Ramsay's special committee.

Business tax is based on assessed rental values of all stores and offices. A roll has been completed and assessment notices have just been mailed. It is thought to be these which stirred up the lively telephone campaign.

Assessed rental values are based on the average rental paid by surrounding stores. The percentage of the assessment to be charged as tax will be set by council when the court of revision has completed any alterations to the roll. It is expected to be 7 per cent.

Although the tax system must raise 50 per cent more revenue from business than was collected in the past, the system does not take this evenly from all firms.

Some will pay the same as they did last year. Others will pay as much as 10 times their previous payment. None will pay less.

Three teen-aged Saanich boys involved in misdemeanors last week were dealt with in Saanich juvenile court Wednesday.

Two 16-year-olds were placed on probation and one 17-year-old has yet to appear in court for the part they played in shoving a 15-year-old girl into waters of the Gorge.

The South Pacific air-sea rescue organization does not believe the yacht could have arrived at Henderson much before Aug. 28.

Tomarchin, whose only companion on the island was a pet chimpanzee, is now believed on his way to Pitcairn aboard a surf-boat. But some Australian papers are still reporting that he is stranded on the island because of unfavorable winds.

Lack of direct communication with the island keeps the final issue in doubt.

Doubt still surrounds earlier reports that Mr. and Mrs. Wells put a castaway ashore at lonely Henderson Island, 125 miles from the Pitcairn group, on July 28. The castaway has been identified as Robert Tomarchin, a television advertising man from New York.

Council Ponders Convention Aid

Alderman Questions Legality

Victoria city council may take a second look at its recent decision to grant $2,100 to a national Chamber of Commerce convention dinner later this month.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay, who opposed the grant when council passed it Aug. 22, said he will ask council to reconsider in view of published protests by the public.

Ald. Ramsay said today he doubts the validity of the council resolution in view of the fact many members of council (seven it is reported, including Ald. Ramsay), are members of the chamber in Victoria. President of the Victoria chamber is Ald. A. I. Curtis.

AGAINST CUSTOM

It is customary in council, when a resolution affects an alderman or a firm with which he is connected, that the alderman withdraw while the vote is taken.

If this procedure were followed in the case of the chamber grant, there would be no quorum to vote on the matter.

Ald. Ramsay also pointed out the grant may make it difficult for council if the junior chamber asks similar treatment when it holds its national convention here in 1958.

Ald. J. Donald Smith, who sided earlier with Ald. Ramsay, doubted today council would be able to back out of its commitment. But he added, "It was wrong before and it's still wrong."

FUNDS RUN LOW

The chamber convenes here Sept. 29 and opens with the buffet dinner. Oak Bay and Saanich are giving a total of $700 toward the anticipated cost of $2,800.

Earlier this year council voted to make entertainment grants only to organizations connected with municipal government.

When the chamber request came in, the city's budgeted entertainment fund of $3,000 was down to $1,400 and another $700 is to be taken from the contingency fund. This is also opposed by Ald. Ramsay who holds the contingency fund is set up for emergencies.

Municipal Engineers Meet Friday

Major aspects of municipal engineering will be covered at the 1957 convention of the municipal engineers' division, Association of Professional Engineers of B.C., which starts a two-day convention here Friday at the Empress Hotel.

About 300 delegates are expected with registration starting tonight.

Papers to be heard include "Air Pollution Control" by J. Satterthwaite, Vancouver smoke inspector; "Storm Water and Open Channels," by D. A. Welsh, assistant municipal engineer, North Vancouver; "Photography and Records," by H. T. Libby, B.C. Electric; "Location of Utilities," by T. A. Whelan, consulting engineer; "Time and Method Study," by L. B. Kellogg, management consultant.

"Uses of Asphalt in Smaller Municipalities," by S. J. Cunliffe, Victoria consulting engineer; and "Administration and Management," by Victoria city engineer J. C. Garnett.

Convention chairman is H. D. Dawson, retired municipal engineer for Saanich.

Guest speaker at the annual banquet Friday will be Maj. General C. A. P. Munson of Duncan.

Election of officers will be held Saturday afternoon.

Speedy Fire Guts Saanich Residence

An Admirals Road couple who lived without fire insurance for 36 years then took their first policy a few months ago lost their home to fire Wednesday.

Firemen blamed spilled frying pan grease for the blaze which gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Minnings, 2865 Admirals.

But Mrs. Minnings, 62, says, "We never had a fire insurance policy until now—and I'm darn sure that's why it burned."

Mrs. Minnings, almost hysterical after barely escaping the blaze which started with explosive force, celebrated her birthday Monday and her 37th wedding anniversary Tuesday.

By 3 p.m. Wednesday she was homeless.

She watched from a neighbor's home as Saanich firemen, directed by chief Joseph Law, extinguished the blaze in 15 minutes.

But prompt as the firemen were, the fire was faster. Everything was lost or damaged except for a few clothes and bedroom items, the wash on the line, and a pitiful few possessions grabbed from the flames by passers-by.

Driver of a passing bus, Alf Jennings, brought out a $100 case of new silver presented to the Minnings just this week. Firemen retrieved Mrs. Minning's purse, her husband's shot gun and a box of shells.

Mrs. Minnings saved some items herself. After rushing from her burning home, she ran to a bedroom window, wriggled through far enough to reach her glasses and a cherished picture of her brother who died in the First World War.

Doubt Clouds 'Castaway' Story About Local Yacht

The South Seas "mystery" involving the B.C. yacht Flying Walrus continued to simmer today, with conflicting reports received from Auckland, N.Z., Suva, in the Fiji Islands, and Vancouver, B.C.

Latest reports have the 38-foot ketch, owned by his school teacher John Wells and his wife Diane, at Mangareva on Aug. 14. The Flying Walrus, which was here during the summer of 1956 as a radio boat on Juan de Fuca Strait swings, was to have stayed at Mangareva for 10 days.

Doubt still surrounds earlier reports that Mr. and Mrs. Wells put a castaway ashore at lonely Henderson Island, 125 miles from the Pitcairn group, on July 28. The castaway has been identified as Robert Tomarchin, a television advertising man from New York.

The South Pacific air-sea rescue organization does not believe the yacht could have arrived at Henderson much before Aug. 28.

Government House to Blend Old, New

The new Government House in Victoria will be "a dignified blend" of old and new styles of architecture, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant announced today.

"It will certainly not be ultra-modern," he added.

Mr. Chant said his architects have agreed on the general plan of the new building — replacing the one which burned down last March — and they are now filling in the details.

Overall cost of the building is expected to be about $1,000,000, but definite estimates cannot be made until plans and specifications are complete.

"It will be no slavish copy of the old building," Mr. Chant said. "The ground floor plan will be similar to the old, but radical changes will be made in the first floor. "This floor will have more rooms and they will be better arranged than before."

Mr. Chant said the outside appearance of the building will be somewhat different from the old but it is possible the impressive granite entrance arch, which survived the fire, will be utilized.

A full basement will be constructed under the house.

"We hope to produce a building that will be a credit to the community as well as a fitting residence for the Queen's representative in British Columbia."

"For this reason we have rejected the idea of an ultra-modern structure. It is important that we retain the historic dignity of Government House."

Last July Victoria Labor Council urged that the new Government House should be at least modern in design and possibly "ultra-modern."

The Vancouver Island chapter of the Architectural Institute of B.C. urged the government to hold a competition among the B.C. architects to discover the most suitable design.

But this proposal was rejected by the government.

Local Man Wins $150 UBC Grant

Local winner of a $150 grant, awarded by UBC for continued study at the university, is Michael Schulzer, 21, of 3095 Carey Road.

Eight scholarships totalling $1,475 were awarded, it was announced today.

Michael is in his fourth year at UBC taking a mathematics honors course.

He has been working during the summer in the provincial department of education.

"See if he can transplant a little from the sides to the top."

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Innovations in Foods And Toys for Your Pets

By PENNY SAVER

George Eliot said, "Animals are such agreeable friends, they ask no questions, they pass no criticisms." This quotation popped into my mind when, on my rounds today, I came upon some items for our pets.

Wouldn't it be interesting to know what animals think of the new innovations in their foods and toys?

My guess is that they would be as pleased as I was when I came across such a novelty as a "budgie scale." This is a tiny scale complete with weight and mirror that your parakeet can jump on and off. Your budgie would be a happy if not a clever bird for only 75c.

You've heard of "booties" for babies. Well, the latest fad—for dogs and cats—is to wear waterproof boots. Actually they are very practical, as they can be put on a sore paw or the animal's feet when he goes out into the wet weather, then removed when he comes into the clean house. These booties are $1.75. They come in bright colors.

If your puppy likes to throw his food about, then the new pilable plastic dishes are for him. They can't break and they have deep sides to keep the food in. These bowls can be bought for 95 cents.

Of course, food is needed in that bowl, and buying dog and cat meal in bulk will save you many pennies. In a variety of brands, this meal comes at 25 cents and up.

"My dog has fleas." Well, if he has, I have found the answer. A flea collar. This collar has a flea repellent mixed into the fabric so that those little bugs don't dare to come near your pet... only 60 cents.

If you animal owners and lovers would like to know where I shopped today, phone me at 2-3131.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Enclosure Card Should Bear Full Name:

When mother died, a floral piece was sent bearing only the first names of four people.

None of us were able to figure out who sent it. Some time later, my sister-in-law informed me that some friends of hers who sent flowers had not been thanked. It was then that I discovered the identity of the four.

She refused to write the thank you notes, so I did. She continues to be irked over this issue, even though I have tried to explain. I did not (and do not) know these four people.

Don't you think that they were remiss in the first place by failing to give their full names?

Louise Davis Answers: Indeed I do. People sending flowers or a gift shouldn't be playing the game of "guess-who." Full names should always be inscribed on cards, especially on those attached to floral pieces for funerals.

To Ottawa

Mrs. George R. Pearkes, wife of Canada's defence minister, has left Victoria to join her husband in Ottawa. Mrs. A. de B. MacPhillips, wife of the member for Victoria, will leave for the capital in early October.

In Hollywood

In the chapel of Hollywood Presbyterian Church, Hollywood, Calif., wedding vows were exchanged recently by Lillian Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Emery of Victoria and John Van Frey, only son of Mrs. A. John Frey and the late Mr. Frey of West Los Angeles. Only attendant was Miss Joan Bacon, formerly of Victoria and now of Beverly Hills, Calif. The best man was Carl Mazel. The young couple are now at home at 2209 1/2 South Beverly Glen Boulevard, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Honeymooners

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Park who were married recently in Montreal, have been visiting with their aunt Mrs. M. M. Bridge at 1266 Oscar Street. En route back to eastern Canada they stayed with cousins in Vancouver before continuing their trip on by air.

Montreal Family

From Montreal are Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Macpherson (nee Miss Dawn Josephs) and family, to spend a month with Mrs. Macpherson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Josephs, 1707 Lee Avenue.

From East

Returned from Montreal by air is Mrs. S. Sadkowsky, 1221 Fairfield Road. She has spent the last three weeks with her sister, Mrs. G. McTaggart, and brother, Col. G. Ibbotson, in the east.

Dress tops are as supple as pullover sweaters; skirts show a softness flared by pleats. A touch of fur is a stroke of fashion.

Fabrics are rich in texture, vibrant in crown jewel colors. Colors turn up in stockings, too, and hats, especially the ever popular cloche, swoosh and soar into lovely lines.

The showings are to be repeated again on Friday and Saturday in the Douglas Room, both morning and afternoon.

Fashion details in coats included ear-touching collars, a hint of a yoke gently controlled fullness. Fur collars add a touch of elegance.

Vibrant tartans are shown in smart sportswear. To spark the winter scene, a smart sheath was shown for afternoon wear, in lovely clear red, the artfully draped, gently bloused bodice and scarf tied neckline the main notes of interest.

A two-piece cocktail ensemble in satin faced brocade, woven with Oriental symbols of good luck, was outstanding. The little coat is fully lined in taffeta and the sheath dress was styled for utmost figure flattery. Only trim is a sparkling frost of pearls and rhinestones placed at the oval neck of the dress.

For after-five beauty there is a Suzy Perette original in midnight black velvet and corded silk styled with the new point apron panel and with princess line skirt.

An afternoon dress in monochromatic grey and black spice by jewel green accessories showed panel pleats at back of the skirt and seams set to make a perfectly tapered and fitted curve that brings flattery to the mature figure.

Highlight in the evening gown presentation was an Empress Eugenie formal of scrolled Guipure lace and black silk, finished with a tulle lined Sabrina neckline and with bustled hipline and swagged pouf of silk taffeta. Caught in the folds of the skirt is a hand-made French rose. The skirt is slightly en train.

Finale of the showing was a bridal scene with the mother of the bride in rose silk organza; the bridesmaids in waltz-length gowns of pink, flame and blue nylon chiffon and the bride in an elegant white brocaded taffeta gown, slightly en train, and with bateau neckline and lily-point sleeves.

Miss Adele Goult is commentator for the showings and the mannequins, Viola Lucas, Doris Usher, Ellen McConchy, Mary Rawnsley and June Charlton.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Calorie Counting Is Boring; You Can Reduce Without It

Many women who wish to reduce will not count calories. Others mean to but never begin. Let's face it! It does become somewhat boring. It is like keeping a budget. You have the best intentions and go along smoothly for a while. Then in the rush of living you fail to write down the number of dollars (calories) you have spent for several days. What a mess! You try to remember back but end up with an unaccounted-for deficit.

So, I would like to help those of you who want to lose weight but who will not count calories. If you will abide by the following suggestions, you can lose without counting calories:

1. Leave off in between snacks except for those which are an essential part of your diet such as fresh fruit, or milk or fruit juice.
2. Control bread intake — no more than three slices a day.
3. Substitute fresh fruit for dessert.
4. Broil, bake or boil your food. Avoid fried foods.
5. Drink skim milk or buttermilk or powdered, fat-free milk.
6. Go easy on butter and salad dressings. If you are seriously reducing, use one of the low calorie dressings.
7. Leave off cream, gravy, nuts and fat meat.

You should distribute your food in any way which seems best for you. If you want to eat

Ike-Faubus Talks
Set on School Issue

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Federal Judge William E. Miller granted a restraining order today forbidding any kind of concerted interference with peaceful desegregation of Nashville's violence torn schools.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus arranged today to confer here Saturday in an effort to crack the federal-state deadlock over Little Rock school integration.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced at the president's vacation headquarters that word of Faubus' decision to come here Saturday had been received from Representative Brooks Hays (Dem.-Ark.).

Faubus proposed Wednesday that he and Eisenhower "counsel together" and try to resolve the impasse over integration in Little Rock schools.

Eisenhower agreed to a face-to-face meeting and suggested Faubus come here Friday afternoon or Saturday morning.

Earlier, Eisenhower sharply denounced what he termed "radio and television comment" saying Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus had "thrown in the sponge" in the school integration crisis.

The criticism was voiced by James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, who told reporters the president personally had directed him to hit at such reports.

He said he and the president had been "listening to some radio and television comment" on the Faubus proposal that Faubus and Eisenhower meet.

The secretary said he and Eisenhower had heard "White House aides" being quoted on radio and television as saying Faubus was "throwing in the sponge."

1,000 Die
In Turkey
Floods

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkish newspapers said today 1,000 persons died in floods which swept through the crooked streets of seven villages on Ankara's outskirts Wednesday. But the official death toll remained at 14—the number of bodies recovered.

In some areas the flood wave reached 50 feet as water from cloudbursts rushed down narrow valleys from barren, treeless mountain slopes.

Rescue teams groped through the muddy rains, seeking victims of the flood-waters which swept into Ankara itself, covering low-lying areas and stalling traffic in waves of mud.

They estimated that 500 to 1,000 homes had been destroyed and more than 2,000 flooded. Premier Adnan Menderes hastened to the stricken villages today, and himself became stranded for a time by blocked highways.

The downpours hit an area extending from Ankara's suburbs to a village about 30 miles southeast.

Murder, Suicide
Under Probe
At Island Camp

A suspected murder and suicide at a remote logging camp in the heart of Vancouver Island, believed the outcome of a bloody midnight fight, came to light following the death in Alert Bay Hospital Monday of Joseph L. Sumerville, 61-year-old logger.

According to RCMP, Sumerville was found Saturday, battered and unconscious, near a diesel plant at the Vernon Lake camp of Canadian Forest Products Ltd.

He was taken to hospital Sunday, and died Monday of head injuries. Police investigated, and on Wednesday found near the camp the body of a 51-year-old logger they had meant to question, shot to death and with a shotgun beside him. He was not identified pending notification of next of kin, believed in Vancouver.

There were no reports of a disturbance at the camp, but police would not subscribe to a theory that machinery in the diesel plant could have caused the accident.

An inquest for identification purposes was held on Sumerville's death Tuesday. It is expected to reconvene Sept. 18 at Alert Bay.

Canadian Forest Products has seven logging camps in the Englishman area of the Island. Vernon Lake, furthest from the coast, is about 45 miles south-east of Alert Bay, and 50 miles west of Campbell River.

Five-Day Milk Delivery
Price Increase for City

Milk deliveries by four major city dairies will be cut from six to five days weekly "in the immediate future" and price increases are virtually certain to follow.

This was the impact in-store for Victorians after final settlement Wednesday night of an eight-month dispute between the dairies and Local 464, Milk Salesmen and Dairy Employees' Union.

A joint statement made by the two sides said full agreement on all points at issue had been reached and the one-year contract is being prepared for signing next week.

The compromise settlement involves: No Wednesday and Sunday deliveries, won by the dairies. Wage increases of $30 a month for drivers and $32.50 for plant employees, retroactive to Jan. 1, won by the union.

Introduction of the reduced schedule probably will be made in one to three weeks. A dairy spokesman said today timing will be discussed when the contract is signed. An announcement will be made before the change-over.

Milk prices may go up one or two cents a quart as a result of the $72,900 annual boost to the payroll the settlement provides.

A dairy spokesman said price increases had not been discussed and were merely conjectural, but he added "draw your own conclusions" in view of the wage increases.

"There will be an announcement if and when the time comes," he said.

Last December a dairy spokesman said "it would be a miracle if we can escape a price increase if wages go up."

Vancouver dairies raised prices two cents a quart after smaller wage increases were made. Standard milk has cost 24 cents a quart in Victoria since 1951 when the milk control board of B.C. added three cents. Since that time the board has relinquished control over the consumer level and dairies here could make price increases on their own.

An estimated 118 drivers and 78 plant employees will get the increases, but the driver staff will be reduced one-sixth through normal turnover when the five-day delivery takes hold.

Some 165 union members voted in favor of strike action to back up their demands before settlement was made.

Dairies involved—Palm Dairies Ltd., Island Farms Co-operative Association, Shepherd's Dairy Ltd. and Northwestern Creamery Ltd.—supply about 90 per cent of the city's pasteurized milk.

U.S. COURT RULING

Wenner-Gren Tax
Bumped $474,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States tax court Wednesday upheld internal revenue service claims that Continental Trading Inc., of Mexico City, owes this government some $474,000 additional income tax for the years 1948-50.

Continental Trading is owned by Axel Wenner-Gren, Swedish international financier.

The company, filing U.S. tax returns in those three years, described itself as "a resident foreign corporation." It thus claimed to be eligible for substantial tax discounts on dividends which it collected in the United States for Wenner-Gren.

Internal revenue contended Continental was in fact a non-resident foreign corporation, whose U.S. dividend collections were taxable at the full rate. The tax court said Continental was incorporated in Panama in 1947 to handle certain American investments of Wenner-Gren, including his substantial

Island Indian
For Senate Post?

NANAIMO—Rev. Peter Kelly, DD, 72, president of the United Church of Canada, is being mentioned in Ottawa as a likely candidate for a senatorial appointment.

According to word from Ottawa, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is known to be considering the appointment of at least one Indian to the Upper House.

"I have heard nothing from Ottawa about such a move," Dr. Kelly said today, "but if I were fortunate enough to be appointed it would be a fitting climax to a long struggle by many people for recognition of Indians."

Born at Skidegate Mission in the Queen Charlotte Islands to Haida Indian parents, he worked as a logger and fisherman, and was married in 1906 at Port Essington, near Prince Rupert.

In 1910 he was admitted to the ministry of the Methodist Church, and in 1916 was ordained in Vancouver after taking theological training at Columbian College, New Westminster.

From 1916 to 1930 he looked after the Indian Mission at Nanaimo, then spent three years at Bella Coola. In 1933 he was named to the mission boat Thomas Crosby, and for the next 16 years travelled 1,200 miles per month in the Queen Charlotte Sound and Prince Rupert areas.

He received his Doctor of Divinity degree in 1947 at Union College, Vancouver, and since 1949 has served churches at Cumberland, Union Bay, Parksville, Errington, and Nanaimo.

It was in 1916 that he was elected chairman of the Allied Indian Tribes of B.C., and four years later was in Ottawa asking for retraction of the proposed compulsory enfranchisement bill.

He has made several other trips to Ottawa in the cause of Indian welfare, and has pressed the case of Indians in Victoria many times.

In 1954 he received the Coronation Medal from W. S. A. Niel, commissioner for Indian affairs.

He and Mrs. Kelly live at 33 Acacia Street here.

Poland's Gomulka In Surprise Plug For Soviet Union

Know Your Teacher

21-Year-Old Starting Out New Career

A good-looking young man, only three years out of high school, has gone back to the elementary level to spread a little learning to the vacation-fresh minds of Grade Six students.

Bill Harris, 21, of 2876 Austin, is starting his teaching career at Lampson Street School.

On the first day of school, "I was very nervous," the new teacher said, "but nothing happened and the kids didn't know it, I hope."

Since then things have settled to normal except for "a little bit of confusion," he reports. Bill Harris had always wanted to be a teacher. His brother Jack also teaches, this year in Burnaby.

BOOKKEEPER ONCE

Bill attended Victoria High School where he played on the soccer team. On graduation in 1954, he completed one year at Victoria College then worked as bookkeeper at Victoria Machinery Depot.

"It was just a job to earn money to go back to college," he said.

SEEKS DEGREE

Mr. Harris plans to attend summer school next year and eventually get his BA degree so that he can move up to the high school level. He hopes to specialize in biology and physical education.

In addition to his teaching duties at Lampson Street School, the young teacher also has grade seven classes in physical education, which jibes nicely with his hobbies of basketball and softball.

Lampson's new teacher isn't married—but he's engaged.

Israel Appeals For U.S. Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Israel formally appealed to the United States today "to strengthen all available deterrents against aggression in the Middle East."

The appeal was made to State Secretary Dulles by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, just back from consultations with his government in Jerusalem.

Gomulka and Yugoslav president Tito are considered leaders of the concept of national Communism freed from the control of Moscow.

But, while Tito stood behind him suave and quiet at a factory meeting on the outskirts of this Slovene capital, Gomulka stressed that all "Socialist parties owe a great debt to the Soviet Communist party."

He also said that when Poland was struggling to make a comeback after the Second World War's destruction by "Hitlerite fascism" it was the Soviet Union, along with Czechoslovakia "and other friends" which came to Poland's aid with material help.

Gomulka's speech to about 5,000 workers at the model Litostroj turbine plant here came during a brief tour of the Yugoslav countryside during his present visit to this country.

Asked by a United Press correspondent to comment on the outlook for the Polish-Yugoslav meetings, Tito said: "There is nothing to say at this stage because the talks are only beginning. They will really start when we get to Brioni."

Cuba Demands UN Sanction Against Russ

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Cuban delegate Emilio Nunez-Portuondo expressed hope today that the United Nations will impose sanctions against the Soviet Union if there is continued interference in Hungarian affairs.

The Cuban delegate also told a special session of the 81-country General Assembly that the present Hungarian delegation in the UN does not represent the Hungarian people.

He said his delegation hopes that the regular 1957 assembly meeting here next Tuesday will refuse to accept the credentials of representatives sent here by Premier Janos Kadar's government.

Informed delegates predicted the assembly will adopt a 37-country resolution late Friday endorsing the findings of the UN's five-member committee of inquiry, condemning the Russians once more and naming Prince Wan as a special representative to seek compliance with previous UN resolutions.

Hurricane Speeds Up

MIAMI (UP)—Hurricane Carrie accelerated its speed but lost some of its power early today on a northward course that would miss the U.S. mainland. Latest advisory said the storm was located 940 miles east-northeast of San Juan.

QUEBEC LIBERALS SEEK MARLER FOR TOP POST

MONTREAL (BUP)—A group of Quebec Liberals was reported today to be seeking the nomination of George Marler, former federal transport minister, as national leader of the party.

A caucus, attended by former Commons speaker Rene Beaudoin, was reported to have been held in the Windsor Hotel here Wednesday.

A segment of Quebec Liberals feel that Marler, who speaks fluent French, would stand a better chance of keeping the province a Liberal stronghold than would former external affairs minister Lester B. Pearson, who is being mentioned as Hon. Louis St. Laurent's logical successor.

Sloan Report Concern To B.C. Lumber Chiefs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Top executives of major B.C. forest industry companies say Chief Justice Gordon Sloan may have "gone too far in protecting the smaller operator" in his report on the industry.

The industry leaders, who are giving their views on the report freely as long as their names aren't quoted yet, said they will send detailed briefs to Premier Bennett praising the report but expressing concern and even alarm at some of its recommendations.

4 Men, Woman Named Canada's UN Team

OTTAWA (BUP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced Wednesday night that four men and a woman will make up the Canadian delegation to the 12th General Assembly of the United Nations which opens in New York Sept. 17.

The delegation will be headed by Dr. Sidney E. Smith, the new Secretary of State for External Affairs.

Other members of the delegation will be: Wallace Nesbitt, parliamentary assistant to the prime minister; Dr. R. A. Mackay, permanent representative of Canada to the UN; Mrs. Harry S. Quart, and Frank Lennard, MP.

Alternative representatives to the delegation will be: H. O. White, MP; T. Ricard, MP; Escott Reid; W. D. Matthews, assistant undersecretary of state for external affairs; and

E. B. Rogers, Canadian Ambassador to Peru.

Millionaire Takes Own Life, Father Killed Self in 1939

NEW YORK (AP)—Clendenin J. Ryan, 52, a millionaire reformer who stirred many a political tempest in New York City, killed himself at his plush Manhattan home today with a bullet in the brain.

In taking his own life, he followed in the footsteps of his father, Clendenin J. Ryan, Sr., who committed suicide by gas in the same five-story grey mansion August 21, 1939.

A cousin, Joseph B. Ryan, 44, like the younger Clendenin a grandson of the late financier Thomas Fortune Ryan, killed himself with a leap from a 22nd-floor New York hotel window on September 12, 1950. Joseph Ryan owned the famous ski lodge at Mont Tremblant, Que.

What caused Clendenin Ryan to snuff out his life remained, for the time being at least, a mystery. He left notes to his wife and others, but police did not immediately disclose their contents or shed any light on his motive.

MENTAL ISSUE

However, in connection with a recent lawsuit filed against Ryan in New Jersey, his lawyer asked that Ryan not be required to appear because of his mental state.

Ryan rose early today and lawyer Michael Graney had called at the Ryan home to accompany him.

The two conferred briefly, Graney told officers, and Ryan went into a bathroom about 7:30 a.m., asking the lawyer to "excuse me a moment."

Shortly afterwards, Graney heard a noise like a shot but served in various capacities in the La Guardia administration.

When considerable time went by without Ryan's reappearance, he went to investigate.

Ryan lay on the floor, his head pierced by a single shot from a .45 calibre automatic.

WIFE HEARD SHOT

Ryan's wife, Jean, had been in a bedroom and also heard the shot.

A son, Michael, 17, summoned police.

Ryan, who inherited a portion of his grandfather's $141,000,000 estate, and his wife, have four other children, ranging in age from 1½ years to 19 years.

Ryan took a keen interest in New York politics, beginning with the race for mayor in 1933 of Fiorello La Guardia. He

White Pupils Spit Upon Negro Girl

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Negro student Dorothy Counts, after a week of relative peace, again became the target of spittle and thrown objects from her white schoolmates at Harding High School here.

Dorothy, the only Negro among 1,160 students, said that Wednesday "was the roughest I have had since last Wednesday."

She reported that: Twice while she stood before her book locker, objects struck her in the back. When she passed through the school's crowded corridor, students spat upon her.

Dorothy is one of four Negroes who entered four white schools here last week.

BECAUSE YOU RUB SOAP ON YOUR SKIN

Whatever soap you buy you rub directly on your skin, thousands of times throughout the year. Naturally you want the purest, gentlest, nicest soap you can buy—and we think you will find it in Maple Leaf. It contains a deodorant that keeps you feeling luxuriously clean for hours, it offers the soothing addition of lanolin, and it's available in four lovely colours to match your bathroom... Aqua, Pink, White and Yellow. Honestly... you'll like Maple Leaf. It's the only deodorant beauty bar in Canada available in four colours!

TO GET OUT OF WASHING DISHES!

If you haven't tried the new Maple Leaf idea of soaking dishes instead of washing them you'll find it an interesting experiment.

Run steaming hot water directly into your dishpan and add one capful of Maple Leaf Liquid Detergent. Then slip the dirty dishes in loosely, so the hot sudsy water can circulate normally around them. Leave them alone for about twenty minutes and you'll find you can simply lift them out and stack them to drain sparkling dry! If this new idea works for you... it may mean that you'll never have to actually wash dishes again!

AS PURE AS SOAP CAN BE

There are several instances where a pure soap is the best washing agent you can use. Any clothing that touches a baby's tender skin, for instance, should be washed in a pure soap; your doctor will assure you of that! Woollens, nylons, fragile lingerie... anything that deserves gentle washing care will be safer in a pure soap like Maple Leaf. And that percentage of people who are allergic to detergents will also find Maple Leaf Pure Soap Flakes useful for general laundry. Because Maple Leaf Soap Flakes are as pure as soap can be—they are used by more Canadian women than any other soap flakes. Look for them at your grocer's now!

I LIKE

Honestly... I'm sure

All wonderful  products

One of the reasons people like Maple Leaf products is our direct simplicity! We make one good liquid detergent, one pure soap flake product, and one exceptional beauty bar. Each has a purpose and each is the best modern scientific skill can make it. So you can believe the girl in the Maple Leaf jingle when she sings "I like Maple Leaf!"
